To My Brother Eddie,

Well guy, what can I say but that I'm really proud of you. You made it guy, all the way!

Here everyone thought you wouldn't make it but you proved everyone wrong.

I just wish we were all going to go watch you graduate. Will be thinking of you every minute.

I wish you all the luck in the world and with whatever you decide to do with your future.

If you ever need help or just some one to talk too, I'll always be here for you.

Again (congratulations) little brother and remember I love you.

Take care, be good and May God Bless and Watch Over you Always.

BROUGHT TO YOU BY THE 1981 CROWN STAFF

Every Picture Tells A Story

A yearbook is a collection of high school events in motion captured in the click of the camera's eye. This annual review is to you the cast of Mater Dei High School which made the movie we present to you, "A Year to Remember." Being the thirtieth year, we produce the memories of our family closeness as the stars and co-stars of our movie. As a movie, this book records in pictures, the events of the 1980-1981 school year. We shared the memories of our friends, teachers, classmates and especially of God. These memories were made through the various activities such as Homecoming, football games, dances, drives, Co-ed, clubs, Student Council, marathons, Prom and topped off by the senior play. This is our production of all of these events and many more. We shared these memories through good and bad times, through victories and spoils, through hardships and easy-times, but mostly through love. *

Introduction 3

Lights, Camera, Action...

Our school theme, "We Are One" represents the closeness that we share as a family of Christ. We grow in our relationship with Him through our special experiences of class masses, prayer in the morning and afternoon, lunch-time Communion and by saying the Rosary. We are one in God and so we must show our love for Him by good deeds and working to our fullest potential. Our family is lead by Fr. Harris, who is helped out by the faculty, to teach the students more about Christ's everlasting love for us. There were also retreats for the seniors and juniors which gave a special encounter of Christ and helped us to strengthen our relationship with Him. Through dedication and love, we are one with ourselves, others and God.★

This year's Senior Class contribution to the halftime performance at the Homecoming Game was "The Big Red Machine." As the float paraded in front of the stands, releasing millions of red and white balloons, sounds of awe and excitement swept through the crowd.

The float was shaped like a train. Being pulled behind the engine was the caboose loaded with helium-filled balloons. The blocked letters which spelled out "THE BIG RED MACHINE" were white, and could be clearly seen against the bright red background. The pride and spirit of this year's Senior Class was certainly portrayed through this magnificent float.

It took many hours of hard work to come up with this masterpiece. The dedication and sacrifices were great, and in the long run, were worth it. Only through the leadership of Brian Mathews, the designing of Ray Moreno, the generosity of the Arriaga's in lending their truck, the assistance of the Jensen family in providing a place to work and food to eat could such a successful task as this come into being.

Many of the Seniors put a part of themselves into that float. It may have been driving a nail into the wood, or a simple stroke of a paintbrush, but whatever the task every individual was a part.

The unity of the Senior Class was called upon, and the Seniors responded. Everyone joined together, as one, and gave their best to make the Senior Class recognized. And recognized it was! This was only a start for the Seniors. Their spirit and pride was felt through the entire year!

Upon the completion of the junior year the new senior may receive a class ring as a memento of his years at Mater Dei. The ring is unique because of the deep and meaningful feelings it represents.

Like the wedding rings of a bride and a groom, the precious metal, either gold, silver or platinum, which the ring is made of symbolizes the valuable relationship between the individual and his school. The ring's circular shape shows how this relationship is forever on going.

A ring is worn by people in authoritative positions, like bishops and kings, and is thought to represent the power which that person possesses. Relating this to the Mater Dei student, Father Harris has said that we should "exercise our power in a constructive way for service." Being seniors we are given an opportunity to use our power to better the school.

Stamped on the side of the ring are three impressions summarizing the meaning of Mater Dei. A book and a quill expresses how important scholastics are in the life of each student. A monarch Lion, the school's mascot, shows the strong union of the graduating class. A crown represents how Christ guides the student body throughout their days at Mater Dei and through life.

Once the student has left Mater Dei, the ring becomes a reminder of those exciting and carefree years.*

How do you know if you're a friend?
It's not just the words you speak,
but the feelings you have for each other,
for which there are no words.

"A friend is someone who hears not merely the words we speak, but our deeper feelings, for which there are no words."

Time is Too slow for those who wait,
Too swift for those who fear,
Too long for those who grieve,
Too short for those who rejoice,
But for those who love,
Time is not.

When final exams are over, a sigh of relief comes from every Senior. Only one thought comes to mind, "I made it!" Mixed in with the joy of finally making graduation is a certain feeling of sadness.

This is the last time we will see Mater Dei, walk through her halls, pray at her Grotto, and sit in her classrooms. Through the years we have made friends, fallen in and out of love, cheered at games, and now it's almost over.

Many of our friends say, "Write me when you get to college," but sometimes the letters don't come. Or they say, "We'll still be friends forever," but forever only lasts a few months.

A feeling of apprehension comes over you—excitement of a new life is contrasted with a longing to stay. Mater Dei has been like a second family. Through the years we adopted many of our close friends as brothers and sisters. Now the family is being broken off and some of the members are going off to college.

Anxiety fills the heart as the thought of starting over enters the mind. Having to be Freshmen and going through changes builds tension in one's life, and the cycle begins again.

Policemen be on the alert the juniors are now licensed drivers! Think about that unforgettable day when you arrived at the Department of Motor Vehicles to apply for your drivers license. As you walked inside the door, you saw a lot of strange faces staring at you. After showing your green slip and permit to the DMV employee you waited nervously in line to take the test. Finally the driving instructor joined you after checking your brake lights and hand signals. At this time last minute driving rules were racing through your head as you tried to remember speed limits, lane changing and other various rules.

As your heart thumped in your throat, you began the test. Approaching your first stop light, you were so nervous that your hands were sweating at the wheel. After about ten minutes of driving the instructor had you back up and do a three point turn on a very narrow street. Then you headed back to DMV and that all important question arose, "Did I pass?" You parked the car and waited for the instructors comments. The tension mounted as he spoke. You passed and a sigh of relief came over you.

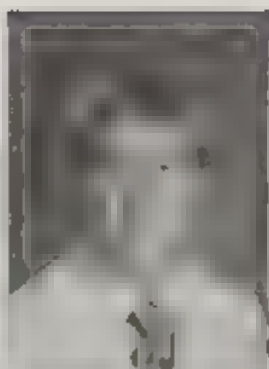

Think about how great you felt and how much freedom that a drivers license gave you. Now you are able to drive anywhere by yourself. You can come and go from places as you like. Furthermore you can drive hastily down Baker Street but watch out for the cops! *

After realizing that your allowance was not enough to pay for all the things you wanted to do you decided to get a job. A JOB! How do you get a job? Well I guess the first step would be to get all spiffed up and start hunting. You walk into your 25th place of business trying to be as calm as you can, and politely ask "May I have in application for Fred's Fun Fish Franchise?" After receiving and scaling over the application you begin to fill it out. With your best penmanship you answer questions and hand it back in. When a manager says to come in for an interview tomorrow at 8:00 A.M. your heart skips a beat. After not being able to sleep you try counting sheep, but they turn into fish. Finally you fall asleep. Waking up to your alarm clock you spring out of bed, get dressed and then you're off for your first interview. The anxiety and anticipation of what will be asked runs through your head. It's time to push the panic button. You walk into the market and ask for the manager. After he asks you a couple of questions and tells you about the job he says those words you've been dreaming about for so long. "You start tomorrow at five, see ya then." At this time you walk, run, leap, and bound out of the building, race home, and announce the good news to everyone. Phone calls are made, letters are written and it's time to celebrate. You've just gotten your very own FIRST JOB! (Congratulations) *

Just as the eighth graders have to take an entrance exam for Mater Dei, the Juniors also have to take an entrance exam for college. This exam is the Scholastic Aptitude Test or SAT.

Back in grade school, students had to take the Iowa Basic Test. The SAT is very similar to it. For instance, there is nothing specific to study before taking the Iowa same with the SAT. Before taking semester final, the student knows what material to study. Before taking the SAT, a Junior only has the sample tests to go over. These samples are so ambiguous because they have a wide variety of topics. For example, the English section covers reading vocabulary, analogies, spelling, sentence structure, and grammar.

The Juniors took this test in late March. The one positive thing going for them was this: the Scholastic Aptitude Test is just that—an aptitude test. This was a serious one just like the entrance exam for Mater Dei.

The SAT helps the college board of a university better understand what kind of student the Junior is. From these tests, the board can see what subjects the student is strong or weak in. From there, the student may be asked to take the course they're weak in at a Junior College. This will enable the student to improve themselves before going to a major university.

The test has many analogies. Here is a sample question for you: Junior SAT Snow White:
a) Seven Dwarfs b) apple c) Wicked Queen d) Prince Charming. *

Think back to that traumatic day, the hours of preparation, and the final kiss. For most teenagers the junior year in high school is the starting point of a new experience DATING

Drifting from the security of a group, a person begins to form new and different types of relationships. Girls pay more attention to their appearance and become charming in order to attract favorable prospects. Guys are able to go to a party, or even a walk along a stretch of beach.

But with all the glory that comes with this change a considerable decrease in one's savings account becomes apparent. New outfits are bought to impress and hours are spent cleaning and waxing that old Ford.

Once a date has been planned the guy must be sure to fill the gas tank before exposing himself to the cross examination of the girl's parents. If the OK is given and the return time is set, the two hurry out leaving all restrictions of parental control. However if such behaviors as rowdiness and boredom seem to enter during the first date don't despair. There are more fish in the ocean. Yet, if all goes well plans will be made to see each other again.

From these events one eventually is able to settle down into a single boyfriend-girlfriend relationship and later marriage. But such commitments should not be taken till each person has developed a mature philosophy of the responsibilities involved. But don't fret. You have many years in which to find that special person. All you can do now is to go out and have fun! *

One Step Up . . .

No longer being a freshman is the greatest privilege of the average sophomore; becoming another year older brings special privileges which cannot be obtained while a freshman. First of all, from attending the school for the past year, you now know a rough layout of the school and know that there is no swimming pool nor a 700 wing of classrooms which is often the story told to freshman by the upper-classmen. Secondly, you get the chance to choose some of your classes which might range from a class of marching with the ROTC units, to your favorite class of geometry which deals with those angles, curves and the dreaded theorems. At this point you also get the chance to begin to accept the challenge which comes to you while trying to conquest the dream of every sixteen year old- a certified California driver's license. But the most favorite part of being a sophomore is that you no longer are a freshman and receive the superiority which is due to you during the fifth period lunch time. These privileges include the knowledge of what to do while "hanging out" and what not to do in the unsuspecting eyes of your classmates. Since you no longer are the freshman, it means that there are no longer the long waits in the lunch line which seemed to last forever because you know the art of taking "cutzies" and are much stronger and wiser than the freshman. But after all, it's just a part of growing older and there are still many years to come. Besides, you're only a SOPHOMORE!★

Sophomores Study Hard . . .

Whoever said that sophomore year was easy, must have been a freshman. For Joe Sophomore, school is really keeping him busy. Everyday Joe gets up at the crack of dawn and gets ready for school. It was hard for Joe to get out of bed this morning because he was up late last night studying for the big test he had today. Stumbling out of his room in the dark, he accidentally left his notes behind on his desk. Today the traffic was really bad and he arrived to school to find out that the first bell for his early morning class rang four and a half minutes ago. He stumbled in late to his class only to be greeted with a pink slip from the teacher. Joe knew this wasn't his day.

After attending his next four classes, Joe Sophomore wasn't even excited for lunch because so far he had been assigned a term paper, he wasn't able to find all the parts of the dissected frog in biology, and he received a D on his geometry test. Futh-ermore, there was a food fight at lunch and somebodys burrito landed in his lap.

Following his eventful lunch period Joe attended his next two classes. Finally the last bell of the day rang and Joe hurried to his locker to unload all of his books into his book bag because as usual, he had a lot of homework to do.

When Joe arrived home, he immediately started his homework and he worked until dinner time. He was starving so he eagerly looked in the oven to see that his mom was serving. It was spinach and meatloaf, the two things Joe hated most, but he ate it anyway.

After dinner he went back to his homework and studied in his room until he fell asleep only to awake to another typical day of sophomore high school life.

Move To The Back Of The Bus!

It hasn't been a good day! Sally Sophomore had to serve a class detention, someone swiped her Merchant of Venice book, its been nonstop raining, and on top of it all she has to take the bus home. She hurriedly searches in her nylon backpack for bus fare only to discover she has 45¢ and a dollar bill. As she races to the bus stop in order to catch the bus which comes exactly one minute and thirty seconds after the final bell, she notices once again that there are more people than can possibly squeeze into the average OTCD "limosene." Suddenly she sees the bus in the horizon. As she prays silently that her injuries are few, she boards the bus. But today was no different! With the familiar hiss of the opening door, she feels the people -compacting process of boarding the bus. She gasps for air as she finally reaches the doorway, now certain that the age of chilvary is dead!

"Transfer Please" states Sally Sophomore, depositing her 45¢ and bus," bellows the loving and always friendly busdriver. Sally obliges only to discover that for the next ten minutes she is to stand next to a slob who when his arm is raised to grasp the upper bar, has never heard of the word "soap." While she exits the bus, she sees her transfer pulling out from the other side of the street. "Hurry," Sally thinks to herself, "I get to wait twenty more minutes in the pouring rain to view the spectacular sites of the county jail and the cheap little liquor store at the corner."

Freedom Of Choice . . .

Along with being the upper of the lower class, Sophomores have the advantage of choosing more electives. When they started out as Freshmen, their classes were already set up. Now as Sophomores, they get to choose their own classes. The following is a story of one such Sophomore who tries to sign up for her classes.

Sally Sophomore sits in her Algebra class looking over her Class Catalogue trying to decide what classes she will take next year. "There are so many electives to choose from. I'm so glad that next year I will be a Sophomore," Sally Says to herself. "Of course I'll have to take the required class of History, English, and Religion but what electives should I take I'll think about it at lunch," Sally says.

At lunch Sally Sophomores sits with her friends, who are also looking at their catalogues. "What classes are you going to take Sally?" asks one of her friends. "Well," Says Sally, "I really can't decide what electives to take. For instance: I could take Typing I, Clothing I, Honors Biology, a math class, another year of a language, Health, or Driver's Education. It's all so confusing."

So as lunch comes to a close, Sally Sophomore decides to take Health/Driver's Education, Biology, and Typing I.

All Sophomores have to make this important decision, at the end of their Freshmen year. Their Sophomore year is an important one but yet it is one to be enjoyed. By choosing their own classes, Sophomores have their first taste of college life.

The beginning of a new experience for the many incoming Freshman students started with the Freshman Welcoming Dance. This dance was held in our very own quad on the night of Sept. 13, 1980. The evening started at 7:00 p.m. and lasted till 11:00. For these four hours, everyone danced to the music of "Mad Dog."

Through the help of many enthusiastic seniors, the student council was able to form a dance contest. Upon entering the dance, every freshman was asked to sign their names on paper. Not knowing what was to happen left them in wonder. Later in the evening, these were the names used for the matching of a freshman with a senior. The objective of this activity was to "break the ice." And that's just what it did! Each freshman chosen was to dance a whole song with their newly acquainted senior. This left every person with feelings of panic all the way to feelings of excitement as these lucky chosen were picked! The GAA had punch and refreshments available throughout the night. The whole evening was a big success, thanks to you! We hope that the memories you made that night will stay with you forever, one's of knowing that you were welcomed to Mater Dei as one of the family!

They may be new to the fast pace and exciting life of the high school student, but given a few days and their spirit and enthusiasm for Mater Dei becomes evident.

The Freshman Class of 1981 was a big influence to the old yet wise Senior Class. Their football rally showed the senior onlookers how a spirit rally should feel, fired up and ready to kill. At their rally volunteers were divided into two teams. Each member of their team was given a turn to grab a piece of food from a bag and eat it. The stunt became hilarious when whole bannanas were eaten in one bite, a tootsie roll was tring to be chewed, and a whole bag of M&M's was swallowed at once.

Throughout the year they participated in most social and athletic events. The football and basketball games were well attended by this rambunctious group and the Freshman Welcoming Dance was a grand success because of their willingness to become involved and their basic nature to have fun.

But their spirit was not limited to extra cirricular activities and athletic functions of this school. Their spirit was shown throughout every day here at Mater Dei. It is a big step from elementary school to high school, but they had the determination and idea to succeed which influenced much of their school work.

As they become sophomores they carry with them the traditional monarch spirit. They have truly become Mater Dei students *

The transition from junior high to high school is really surprising for the freshman. Just looking at the enormous campus of Mater Dei is enough to scare an outsider. The freshmen go through a great change at the beginning of the year. Because of the numerous amount of students, the freshmen experience a new atmosphere in high school, unlike that of junior high. Although the freshmen get picked on by the upper classes they seem to cope with these problems.

The freshmen always seem scared to death their first day of school because they don't know where their classes are. They don't even know which building is which. With the calling of the buildings "wings", the freshmen are left in total confusion.

As a freshman, you are treated differently than you were in junior high. There you were trusted and over all given more freedom and responsibility. But also as a freshman you no longer have to pile all of your books into one desk because they give you a locker. With this comes the responsibility of organizing your time to get your books and to get to your class before the second bell rings. Furthermore, you don't have to sit in the same stuffy classroom all day; you are able to change classes. As it appears, a freshman always has a lot of books in their hands and they run to each class. They believe that five minutes is not enough time to get through the crowded one way halls guarded by the seniors. Another thing which freshmen have to get used to is that they are no longer the leaders of the school. They must once again establish themselves within the school. They are the ones who do the looking up to the upper classmen.

Although the transition from junior high to high school is one of great change and fright, they seem to adapt and grow from these new experiences. *CROWN copy by Therese Tuttobene Fear, excitement, anxiety, a feeling of being out of place. These are the emotions that come out in a freshmen on Orientation Day; the first day of high school.

Mater Dei seems like a whole different country to the freshman. This is the day when the new arrivals have a chance to meet their teachers, try and open their lockers, and meet new friends. The one thought racing through the mind of a freshman is, "Will I be able to make new friends, and will my old ones still be my friends."

The high point of the day is when the Freshmen gather in the gym for their first assembly. Fr Harris presided over the group and everyone is tuned in to what he's saying: "Get Involved!"

On this day the Freshmen are allowed to walk around and get acquainted with Mater Dei, and many facilities. They get their first experience in changing classes in five minutes.

This is the day when the Freshmen are admitted into the Mater Dei family. They learn how to get along with others and to unite as a class. When the Freshmen become Seniors they will look back and remember this day as the starting point in their Mater Dei life.

Newsreel: 1980

As the clock struck twelve and Father Time turned the page to begin a new year, little did anyone know that 1980 would be such a momentous year that it turned out to be

As Americans, we watched the tortuous drama of the hostages in Iran unfold, the borderline death of the Shah, and the war in Iraq which put world peace and oil supplies in jeopardy. Inflation continued its steady rise and, as a result, so did gasoline prices as the price per gallon hit $1.45 in some areas. Jimmy Carter was defeated by Republican Ronald Reagan in a landslide victory. Along with all these, Mother Nature gave us her usual share of natural disasters and God took to Himself many whom we loved dearly. But there were shining moments, too: feats of daring courage, and the youthful exuberance personified in a team of young hockey players who, against all odds, won an Olympic gold medal.

To recapture this momentous year we have assembled two pages of 1980's most unforgettable events. CROWN photos by Wide World Photos unless otherwise indicated. ♦

Mater Dei: More Room Needed As

Mater Dei opened its doors in 1950 with 145 students in the ninth and tenth grades. The entire faculty consisted of eight members: a principal, vice-principal, three sisters, one full-time lay teacher, and two part time lay teachers. For the first two weeks of school, students had half day sessions. The carpenters were frantically finishing the school then consisting of the 100 wing and offices. Some of the buildings were just steel framework and some were even minus the floors. Nevertheless, despite the noise and interruptions, classes went on.

On May 20, 1951, Cardinal McIntyre dedicated the school to Mary, Mother of God. Ceremonies were held in the quad and the entire student body was present. Cardinal Manning, then Bishop Manning, dedicated "Our Lady of Grace", the well known statue of Mary in the grotto, to the school in June of 1951.

School went on as usual until 1953 when the 200 wing was built. This was also the year Mater Dei sent its first graduates out in to "big world." Ceremonies were held in the quad around Mary and was officiated by Cardinal McIntyre himself.

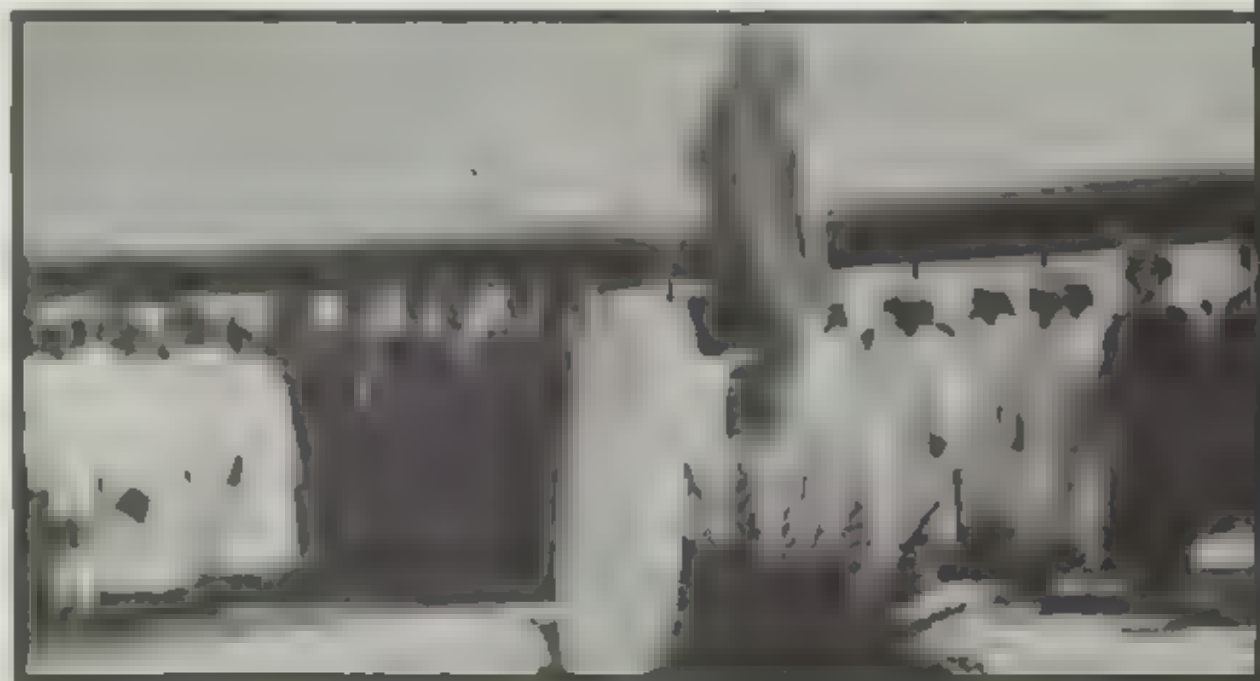

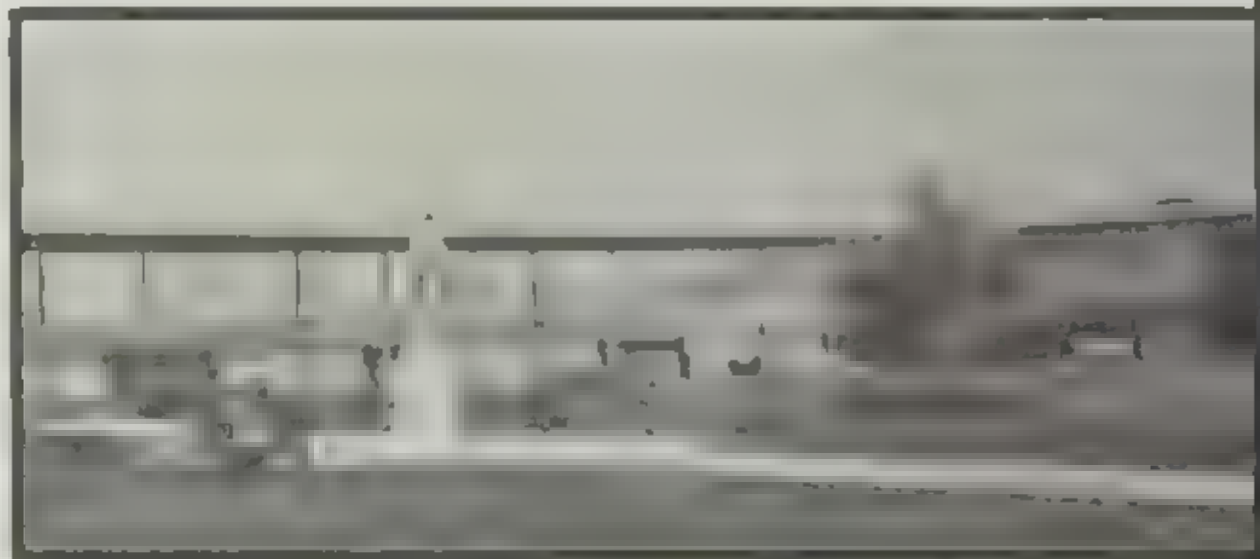

1954 saw a student enrollment of 575 and the building of our multi-purpose gym. The gym is made primarily of concrete and steel. The walls were poured and mounded on the ground then erected by cranes to be attached to the steel frame. Graduation ceremonies were held here from 1955-1959 then moved to the Santa Ana Bowl to accommodate the large amount of graduates and their families.

With the reputation of Mater Dei on the unending upward swing, student enrollment rose to 865 in 1956. More classrooms were needed and thus the 300 wing was built. The year 1958 was no exception to this rule of ever increasing student enrollment — 1200 students came to Mater Dei that year. The school couldn't continue with only three wings, of course, so a fourth was built. Along with the 400 wing came the long awaited chapel. Most of the fixtures in the Oratory were donated by graduating students or by various groups on campus. The stained glass windows contain the first part of the Hail Mary while the center window shows Her as the Mother of God (Mater Dei).

In 1964 Msgr. Donald Montrose saw the need for additional classrooms. Nineteen rooms were built and are known today as the 500 and 600 wings. It was not until the summer of 1977 (when Fr. Harris became Vice-principal under Bro. Eugene Ward) that the Mobile Classrooms (MC's) 4, 5, and 6 were added to the school. The following year, three more MC's were brought on campus as the student enrollment topped off at about 2000.

Today, Mater Dei has reached its full capacity of 2150 students guided by a faculty and administration numbering 103. It is the largest Catholic high school west of Chicago and is known all over Southern California for its excellence in academics, superiority in sports, and greatness of pride the students possess. Yes, Mater Dei is truly a place of Honor, Glory, and Love.

A long and lasting tradition at Mater Dei is the Marion Mass. The Mass, which is devoted to our Blessed Mother, is held in May and is celebrated out on the athletic field enabling the entire student body and faculty to attend. Bishop Clavell served as the principal celebrant of the liturgy while priests from Mater Dei and parishes all over the Orange diocese con-celebrated the Mass. The atmosphere that was present during the Mass was one of sincere prayer and devotion to Mary, our Blessed Mother, and could be felt and seen everywhere •

On May 20, 1951, Cardinal McIntyre, then the Archbishop of Los Angeles, dedicated this campus to our Blessed Mother, and it became known as Mater Dei, or "Mother of God" High School. Then in June of 1951, the Young Ladies Institute of Orange County generously donated "Our Lady of Grace" to Mater Dei and the Grotto came into being. Ever since then, it has been a long time tradition for as many students and parents as possible to return to the grotto with the football team to pray one decade of the rosary. Whether the game was one of victory or of defeat, we kneel in front of our Blessed Mother to give thanks, pray for the safety of our team and for future Monarch victories. ★

MD Wins CIF With Flair Of Drama

by Jim Cosgrove

Talk about a successful sports year. The year 1980 must have been a great one for Mater Dei. First of all the football team defeated arch rival Servite and ended the season in a tie for the Angelus League crown. The boys' basketball team also won league and advanced all the way to the CIF quarterfinals. All in all, Mater Dei was represented in the CIF playoffs in every sport, both boys and girls athletics. Ah, yes—one more item which I almost forgot—the Monarch baseball team capped the year by winning the CIF 4-A title.

How can that be, you say? I realize it's somewhat difficult to believe. I mean, how many teams do you know of that finish third in their own league and then go on to win the CIF championship, knocking off five league champs along the way? What is even more unlikely is that this same team had a 7-9 record at one point during their season and looked nothing like the title-contending team they were thought to be at the start of the season.

"I thought the chance for a title was gone," Coach Bob Ickes said concerning the team's mediocre mid-season won-loss record. "The guys never gave up on themselves though, and they battled back to put their name in the CIF record book."

Finishing the regular season in third place in Angelus League competition behind St. Paul and Servite, the Monarchs were very optimistic going into the playoffs. "The guys felt that they could go all the way. Although I wasn't quite as loose as they were, I felt that in the playoffs, anything could happen," said Coach Ickes.

After first and second round victories over West Covina (4-1) and Fontana (5-4), the Monarchs played host to St. Paul, the champions of the Angelus League who had defeated Mater Dei in three previous outings. This was where the Monarchs' Cinderella story was supposed to end, many thought. And why shouldn't they? After all, St. Paul had an awesome 23-2 record and was the number one seed in the playoffs, while the Monarchs were a third place team that appeared to be playing over their heads. A strange thing happened, though. The Monarchs proved everyone wrong by eliminating St. Paul with a decisive 6-4 victory, perhaps the most satisfying win of the season up to that point for Coach Ickes and the team. The Monarchs couldn't afford to sit back and savor the fruits of victory just yet, however. There were one or two minor details that had to be worked out before anyone could crack open the champagne.

With the win over St. Paul, Mater Dei moved on to face Notre Dame in the semifinals with the winner advancing to the championship game at Anaheim Stadium. Abandoning all concern for the nerves of both Coach Ickes and the fans, the Monarchs pulled out another come-from-behind heartstopper, winning 8-5. It wouldn't have been so bad to watch from the stands, but these guys have to go out there and be dramatic too! Giving up three runs in the first inning isn't so bad, but those late-inning rallies wear your nerves to a frazzle! "I don't know what it is about this ballclub," Coach Ickes said after the semifinal win over Notre Dame. "It seems they like to make it tough for us."

True to form, the Monarchs made it as tough as they possibly could on their fans in the championship game against El Segundo, a school which had captured the CIF title five times in the last fifteen years. When El Segundo opened the game by scoring three times in the first inning, Mater Dei's chances for its first CIF baseball title seemed unlikely. Oh sure, they had given up three runs in the first inning to both St. Paul and Notre Dame and then came back to win, but this was different. This was the CIF championship and El Segundo was the same school American League batting champion George Brett had played for when he was in high school. You just don't pull off any miracles against schools like El Segundo. Be logical! This is real life, not some Hollywood movie. Be serious! . Oh well—so much for logic.

Mater Dei battled back to tie the game in the fourth inning when designated hitter Joe Donahue belted a double scoring two, knotting the game at 4-4. Donahue moved to third when El Segundo shortstop Dave Mote booted Phil Spencer's ground ball for an error, and then scored to put the Monarchs ahead 5-4 on a single by Mike Johsz who had three hits in as many at-bats and made the defensive play of the game in the fifth inning.

With the score 7-5 in favor of Mater Dei, El Segundo's Bren Conner led off the inning with a double and moved to third on a wild pitch. When Tony Nealeigh hit a lazy fly ball to Johsz in right field, Conner seemed certain to score from third. Johsz caught up to the ball however, and rifled a strike to catcher Amin David who just nipped Conner out at the plate with a diving tag.

Going into the bottom of the seventh inning with a 7-5 lead, the Monarchs could see that the championship was within their grasp. The unimaginable was actually happening. Here they were, a third place team going into the last half of the seventh inning of the CIF 4-A Championship game with a two run lead! Pitcher Dan Sottosanti in relief of starter Mark Brown, quickly got two men out. One more out and that was it—a CIF title for Mater Dei! Hold on though—not so fast. Let's not be premature. Remember what Yogi Berra says: "It's not over 'til it's over!" Ah yes—more dramatics.

With two men out, El Segundo's Bren Conner walked and came around to score on a triple by Tony Nealeigh, making the score 7-6 Mater Dei. Now the entire crowd was on its feet. The tying run was ninety feet away. The batter for El Segundo, Scot Guick, now came up to face Sottosanti with the CIF title on the line. Sottosanti pitched him carefully, not wanting to give him a pitch he could handle, and got him to hit a high fly ball to Brian Drazba in centerfield to end the game and give Mater Dei its first-ever CIF baseball title.

Looking back, all the Tense nerve-wracking nail biting moments were a small price to pay for being part of a championship. Watching the team defy the odds and win the CIF title was truly satisfying from a fan's point of view, primarily because Mater Dei was the underdog throughout the playoffs. The team was never expected to win, yet they had faith in themselves and truly believed that they could win the title and they did. Who knows? The 1980 CIF baseball title may be the first of many or it may be the last one ever. But there is one thing you can be sure of: no other championship team at Mater Dei will ever match the 1980 Monarch baseball team when it comes to intensity, excitement and—oh yes—drama.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ

Bound in this book is "A Year to Remember." Although it is important to enjoy the present and plan for the future, it is important also to take time to remember the past. As we survey this year, what have we learned?

This book is filled with the memories not of material things, but of people, friendship and times shared. The lesson which grows within us as we dwell on the pictures and words is that the pursuit of a purely material goal is a great illusion. The real and lasting encounters come in those moments when our hearts are touched by someone who cares or by some personal experience. We remember not things, but those close to us, the laughter and the tears, the joys and the sufferings. We remember those days when God spoke to us in His loving and mysterious way.

We are grateful to those who prepared this book allowing us to live this year again. By our turning of these pages may we resolve to live and love with all our energies. The pages of our earthly life are all too few. The final chapter of Book I is coming. Let us live to begin Book II, the Book of Life, where every chapter is better than the one preceding and where the story has no end.

Sincerely in Mater Dei

In Appreciation...

Joset — a true son of Mary

Twenty-five years ago a young Belgian traveled to a far and distant land to serve the Church. It was fortunate for Mater Dei that he chose Mary's School as his destination and that for a quarter of a century now he has served for it and its community with love and dedication.

The secret of Mary's greatness was not that she did extraordinary things, but that she did ordinary things well. In a quiet way she tended her family with care and love. Joset is a true son of Mary. His greatness comes from the way in which he tends the family of Mater Dei—quietly, lovingly, faithfully.

Joset, like his patron, is part of the strength of our family. May the Lord give him many more years with us. *

Father Michael Harris

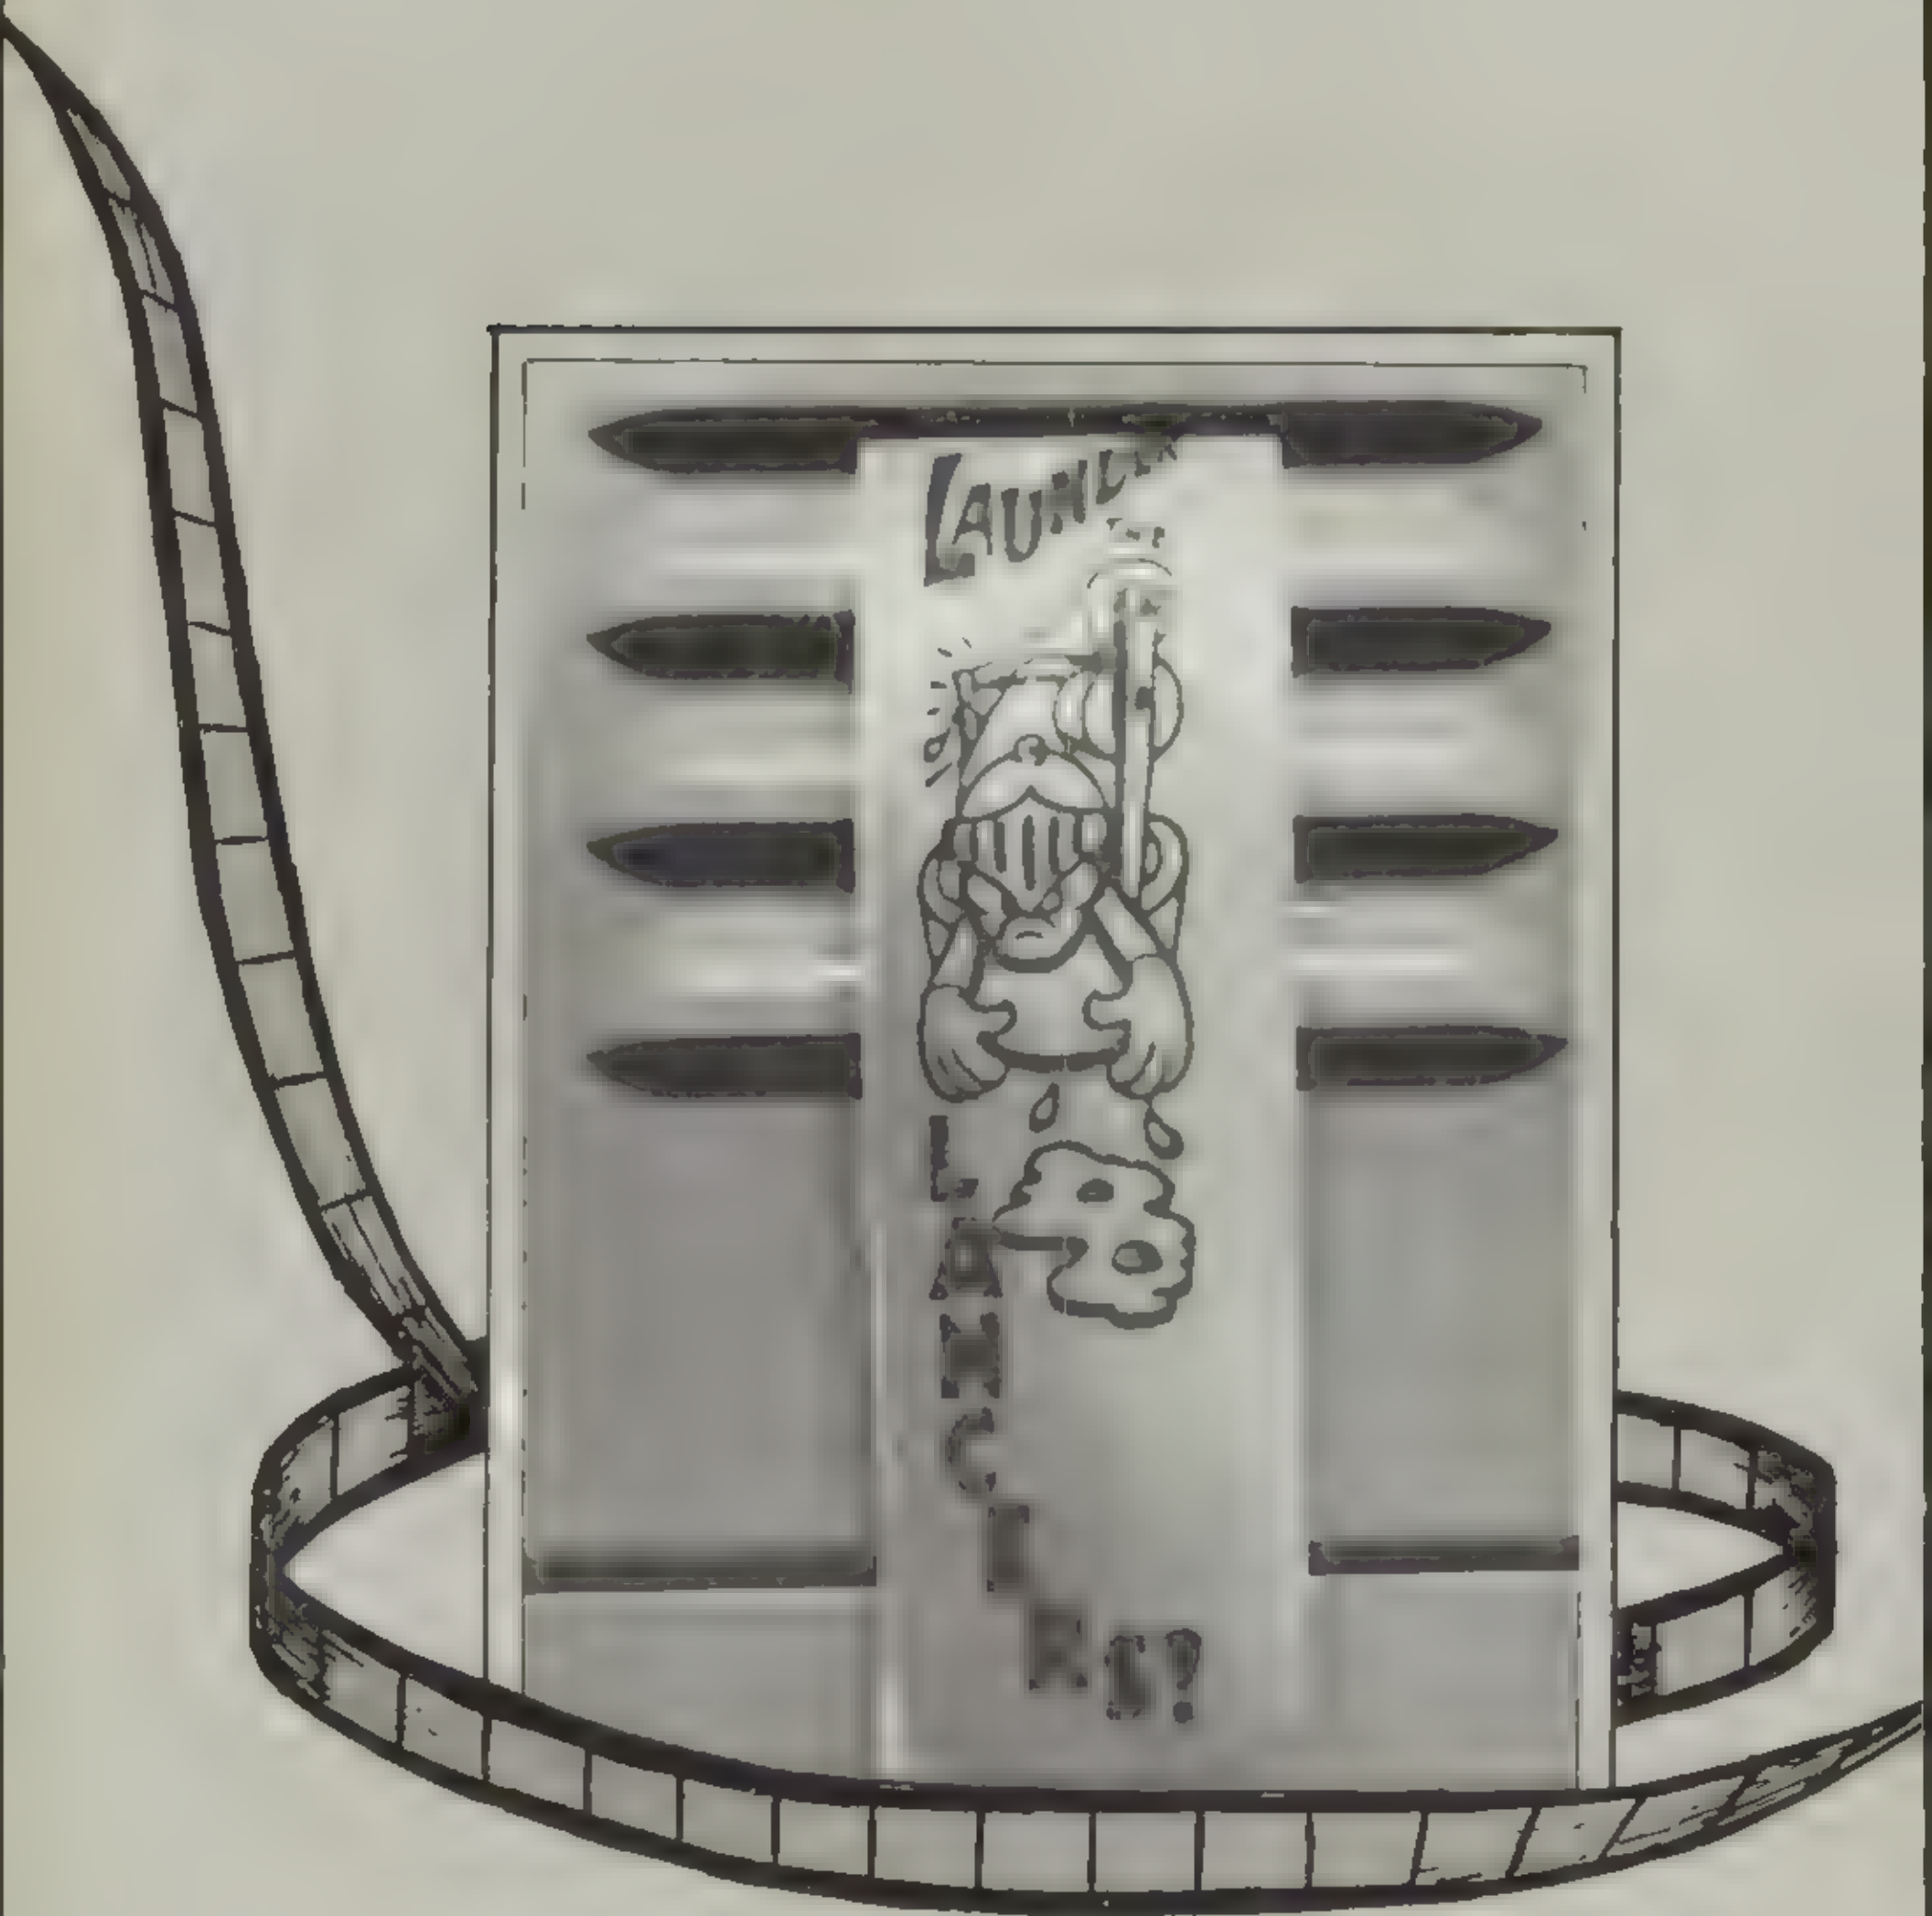

John Merino Mr. Mater De

John Merino is one of Mater De's first and most loyal Monarchs. For the past twenty five years he has given generously of his time and talent to the school he loves. There is no aspect of school life in which he has not been involved. His manifold contributions are a great part of the success Mater De has enjoyed over the years.

As a teacher he has shared knowledge and skills with his students; as Dean of Studies he has charted a course of great academic integrity; as Dean of Activities he has provided ever increasing opportunities for student involvement and enjoyment; as Moderator of the Pep Squad he has given to its members and to all of us a tradition of Spirit that is one of the hallmarks of this school; as Dean of Boys he has helped thousands of young men towards more Christian behavior; as Moderator of Class Officers he has developed the leadership skills of generations of student officers; as Athletic Moderator he has contributed to the growth and success of our sports programs; as director of the senior class play he has staged a host of outstanding theatrical experiences and brought senior class unity into reality; as Assistant Principal he has contributed from his great skill and experience and has been a trusted and valuable colleague to the past four principals.

He has been loyal and steadfast in both the good times and the bad. His love is very much at the heart of Mater De. He is Mr. Mater De. We congratulate him on twenty five years of service. We thank God for him. We pray the Lord's blessings upon him always.

Homecoming: The Week

The celebration of a Monarch Homecoming was not just a game of a dance. It was a week filled with a surge of activity uniquely attributed to this special event.

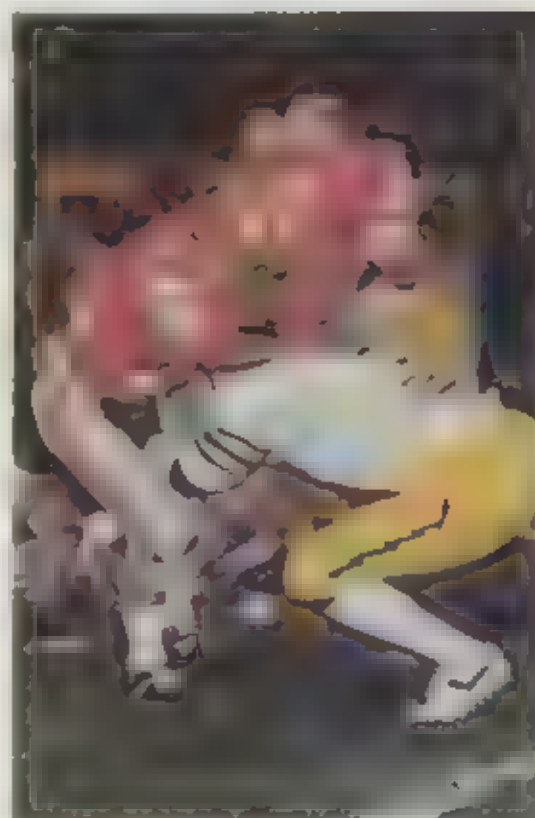

Bids, extra-large Homecoming spirit ribbons, Monarch terrible towels, carnations sales, and Homecoming mums appeared upon the lunch scene, reminding students of the excitement to come. Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors added the finishing touches to their class floats, while the Student Council rushed to tag the over ten thousand carnations that were to be distributed.

Before a standing room only crowd the monarchs met the challenging Edison Chargers in a pre-season game, the game ball being presented by a suddenly appearing skydiver.

Halftime festivities were highlighted by the releasing of the balloons from the first place senior class float.

The "Big Red Machine", a stupendous display of fireworks, and the crowning of this year's Homecoming queen Katie Purdy by last year's queen Laurie Woolery.

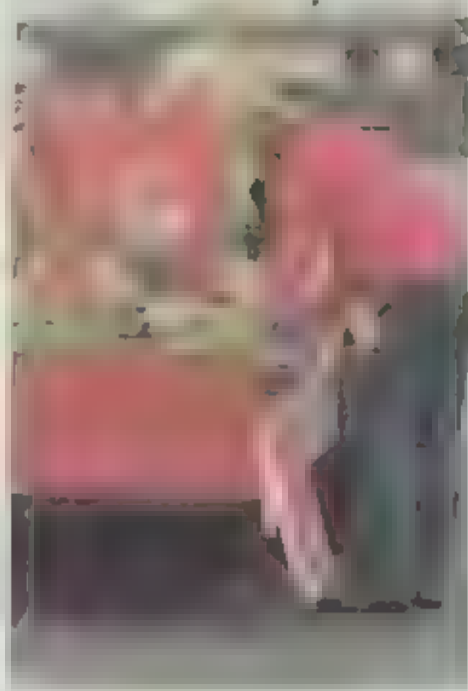

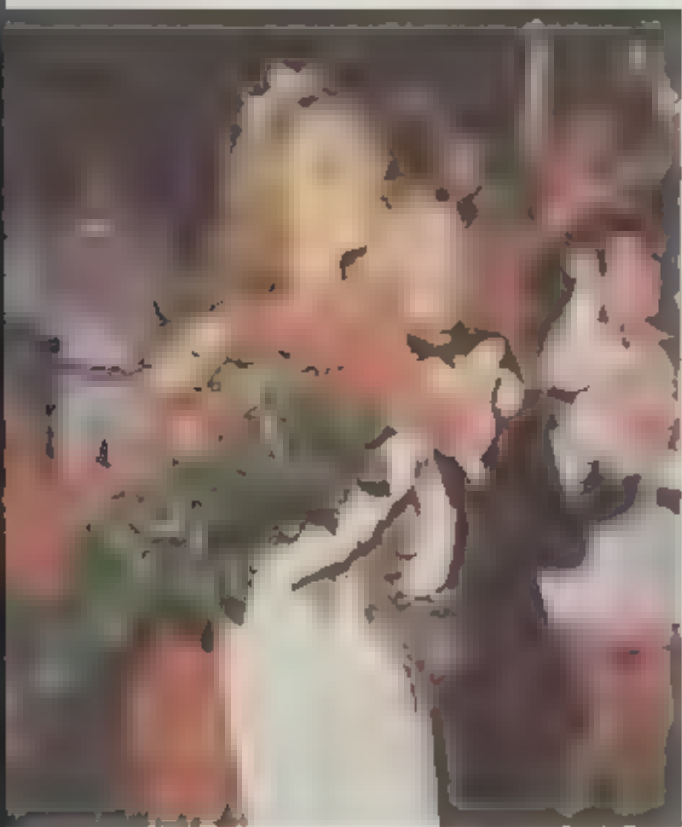

The queen and her court, Janette Lujan - Senior Attendant, Sue Sullivan - Senior Attendant, Laurie Ferguson - Junior Attendant, and Michelle Burke - Sophomore Attendant, were led off of the queen's float by the formally attired Senior Class President Brian Matthews and joined by their fathers who were their escorts.

Precious Times

The "Precious Times" of Homecoming '80 began long before the dance started. For him, picking out a corsage, having his suit cleaned and making reservations for dinner and, for her, finding a dress, a corsage, a bouquet, and having her hair done are all important things associated with the Homecoming dance.

Towards the end of the dance, the band retired unexpectedly, but after much encouragement from the crowd, the band again returned and agreed to play for the traditional court dance, in which Katie Purdy, Marty Callahan and the rest of the court with their dates were the center of attraction. After the dance, many couples gathered their belongings, drove to a coffee shop for a late night snack, and headed for home.*

Yee-Haw!

Gettin' jailed, chewin' straw an just havin' a knee-slappin' good Ol' time was what this dance was all about. Sadie Hawkins had a country theme and was organized as a fundraiser for the cheerleaders' trip to the national competition in Florida. Not only did it supply a great dancing atmosphere, but also a marriage booth, jailhouse and picture-taking booth. Students felt downright country in their jeans and overalls while dancing to the music of Scandal. last year's dance was such a success that the demand for a dance this year was overwhelming. We hope that this special dance becomes an annual tradition. *

Dance The Night Away

During the school year various groups sponsor dances. The dances fill the Monarch Pavillion with good sounds and happy people. These dances are great for the students to forget the education part of Mater Dei to gather for gossip, fun and, of course dancing. At the "Welcome Dance" the Freshmen get their first taste of high school social life. At the "Halloween Dance" the Seniors come together as a class to haunt the Monarch Pavillion. "Spirits" are high at this dance. In November the "Thanksgiving Dance" brings the school together to celebrate the first vacation of the year, and at the "Christmas Dance" the students get to sit on Santa's knee and tell them their secret Christmas wishes. At the "Sadie Hawkins Dance" the cowboy comes out in all of us and at the end of the year the students all gather at the "Signing Dance" to write their fairwells to their friends *

A Finishing Touch

A pie in the face began the great spirit rally for the freshman. As all rallies are, this one showed the great spirit that we are known for. All year long, whether it is at games, special events or just a regular day at school, everyone and anyone can feel the aura of spirit that glows throughout the school. Our spirit is present all of the time but radiates to its fullest the day of a special event. Proof of this has been the wonderfully spirited sell-out crowds, rallies, spirit weeks, homecoming floats and the exuberant faces of the students as well as the faculty. The spirit of our school has been and always will be the finishing touch as "the pie in the face" was for this rally. *

Drives were one of the main projects during the year. The items and money collected went to various organizations here at school and in Santa Ana.

The first carnation sale was in 1969 when Mater Dei held a Mission dance to raise money for the missions. Two senior students decided to sell carnations to raise money towards the missions. It was liked so well that from then on the senior class held a carnation sale every year. In each of the sales this year about 9 000 carnations were sold. The money went towards senior projects, the senior class play, and other things.

Another drive was the Thanksgiving drive put on by the Campus Youth Ministry (CYM). The food and clothing that was collected went to Sister Mary Drew and the poor in Orange County. The student council had a drive at Christmas time called Christmas spirit week when they collected food, clothing, and toys that also went to Sister Mary Drew and the Santa Ana Community agency.

One of the last drives of the year was the Mission drive that the CYM sponsors every year during Lent. The money went to the missions to help the poor.

Of course the Chocolate Drive can't be forgotten. Kim Lowry, a freshmen, sold the most chocolate and in second place sophomore, Mary Ann Reynolds. The leading section was 9s9 who went to Disneyland for selling the most chocolate. About 1250 cases of candy were sold in all and the money went towards improving school facilities.

The quota for each student was 1 case, but those who sold 3 or 4 cases jumped over 1 dollar bills and those who sold 5 or more cases jumped over 5 dollar bills. Sister Mary Rose, who was in charge of the Chocolate Drive, commented that the drive was a very successful *

A Warm Welcome

Often overlooked in the excitement of football games was the Welcoming Committee. They arrived an hour before each game to hang banners and posters, reserve seats for the band, drill team, and flag squad; direct traffic in the student and parent cheering sections; and take tickets at the gate. Their dedication and hard work contributed to the spirit and fun at every game *

Western Champions

The Mater Dei Pep Squad worked diligently during the summer in order to prepare for and later attend the United Spirit Association Camp held in Santa Barbara. They received the Spirit Award and the Superior Trophy for their outstanding performance of cheers. Also during this camp, the squad received the Unity Award for their enthusiasm and leadership which was determined by the casting of ballots by all the cheerleaders from different schools attending the camp. The Pep Squad represented the school in true Monarch fashion, including winning First Place in the United States Western Regional Championships which qualified them to attend the National Finals held in Florida during February. The cheerleaders led the Monarch fans at the games and exemplified the meaning of school spirit.*

Songleading has been the highlight of my four years at Mater Dei. It was a dream come true. Never have I had so much fun working so hard. Our squad this year was a great success and I love them all. We would like to thank the student body for their supporting spirit. Songleading has made many great memories at Mater Dei for me. Paula Kleintjes was appointed head songleader this year because of her proven dedication to songleading and her excellent showmanship. She serves as a surrogate "mother" to all of the members on her squad, and loves it. Paula shows true Monarch Spirit. *

Spiriting Along

Yelling, jumping, and cheering, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders 'spirited' the freshmen and sophomore football and basketball teams on to victory. They were possibly the most active cheerleaders anywhere. The squad cheered for the freshmen red and grey football teams, the sophomore football team, the freshmen red and white basketball teams, and the sophomore basketball team. Few days went by when they were not busy cheering after school. And when they weren't cheering at a game, they were practicing their many stunts for competition.

The cheerleaders participated in competitions all over California and among them were competitions at Buena Park and Santa Barbara. They were very successful at these competitions.

Their spirit and enthusiasm at the games were the two components which made them so special.

Play It Again Sam!

Musical talent was not the only ingredient that made the band spectacular. The excellence of the group started with strong leadership and ended with family unity. They marched in about eleven parades and performed at approximately ten competitions, winning eight first place awards. In addition to all of this, they performed at a Ram's half-time show, Doger's pregame show, Disneyland, Special Olympics, Concert Band Festival and many many more. One of its successes was the expansion of the field show. All of this could not have happened without the instruction and guidance of Mr. Mike Corrigan. Many hours of practice and dedication went into this year's performance, but I think the outcome was magnificent. So, play it again, Sam •

“We Care Enough To Be The Very Best”

The Air Force Jr. ROTC, named California Squadron 82, was created at Mater Dei eight years ago. Both instructors, Lieutenant Col. James Wall and Senior Master Micheal Timmons, are certified by the Air Force and receive re-certification every five years. They are former members of the Air Force and add much experience and knowledge to the Mater Dei program.

The four year course includes Aviation, National Defense, Careers, Space Exploration, and leadership education. In addition to the classroom study, the cadets also participated in football program sales, their annual pancake breakfast, and popcorn sales which raise funds to support the squadron. The cadets visit local military installations, including Edwards Air Force AFB, March AFB, and El Toro Marine Base.

The program consists of 109 students of all grades both young men and women. Mater Dei is one of two Catholic high schools in the country that has an ROTC unit.

• Inspection of the cadets in their uniforms is a regular part of the ROTC program here at Mater Dei.

Small change made a big difference for the Monarchettes. This was Miss Milby's eighth year instructing the Monarchettes, and plans were made for some change. First of all the forty-five girls on the squad received brand new western uniforms for a new image. Secondly, they no longer have separate dance teams. Instead, all of their competitions were performed as one exuberant team. These competitions take place as far away as the Northern State Competition in San Francisco. New for the Monarchettes and band are the field tournaments, at which they compete with their new hall time show. First time out in competition they placed first, beating twelve teams in two upper divisions at the Azusa hall time tournament. They were also asked to perform during half-time for the Rams, which turned out to be a great success. During this past summer the Monarchettes went to Hawaii and plans were being made for a trip to Canada the following summer.

Long May It Wave!

The 1980-81 Mater Dei High School Flag Squad has had a simply splendid year filled with astonishing victories. All the girls on the squad have never held a flag before this year. They totally amazed everyone with high placements in a number of contests and parades, so much so, that they were asked to perform at Disneyland, Dodger Stadium, and in the Hollywood Christmas Parade. They were also the first school asked to perform at a Ram's halftime show. They entertained the fans at our own Monarch football games and partake in the Christmas and Spring Shows in the Monarch Pavilion. We here at Mater Dei are very proud of our Flag Squad and thank them wholeheartedly for the many hours spent perfecting their routines. They are definitely stars of Mater Dei.

A Comical Tradition

Originality and tradition. That is what makes Mater Dei's Little Red School House something special to incoming freshmen and seasoned seniors. Since 1962, the senior class has performed this humorous production for the freshmen class at their welcoming assembly. Originally, the seniors performed various melodramas, until Mr. Merino (who has directed the production every year) discovered "Little Red School House." It was an instant success and has been performed annually ever since.

Of this year's cast, Mr. Merino stated that it was their responsibility and individual interpretation that made this production unique. When asked why they liked being in "Little Red School House," several senior cast members replied:

"I liked being a part of the tradition."
Brian Matthews

"It was the first time I ever had acted. It was fun!" - Mark Brown

"I liked the applause!" - Julie DiIallo

The "Little Red School House" production this year was noted for its wit and professionalism. The performance will endure both in the memories of those seniors leaving Mater Dei, and in the freshmen who have three years to follow.

Dracula Haunts MD

The story of Dracula deals with the following: Lucy Seward became mysteriously ill. When a friend of Lucie's father, Dr. Van Helsing, who is a specialist in little known diseases, arrived to help, he discovered that a neighbor, Count Dracula, was a vampire. After many difficulties, Van Helsing found the Counts grave. Driving a stake through the live corpses heart, he ended the existence of the vampire and the horror that went with it.

The Mater Dei Players worked very hard on this play to make it a success. The play was unique and interesting to watch because it contained many spectacular special effects, such as when Dracula appeared and disappeared in a cloud of smoke and when Dracula broke a mirror with his supernatural powers. All in all, the play was a great success.

The Music Man

When the Music Man first appeared at the Majestic Theater in 1957, the applause and cries of praise were genuine. The same happened twenty-four years later with the graduating class of 1981.

The musical is about a rascally but attractive salesman of musical instruments and band uniforms, shuttling about the Midwest and prevailing on small town people to outfit school bands on the promise of teaching it's members to play. He can not read a note and invariably leaves town on a through freight after (a) collecting his money; (b) breaking a few hearts. In River City, however, he (a) collects his money; (b) falls truly in love with the local librarian; (c) apparent that the city is a happier one, though poorer, for his presence *

The Producers

Here it is folks, your year. As you can obviously see, the theme was movies and we hope that this book will replay the happy times of your year. Everyone on the staff worked tirelessly together to produce this book and we hope you enjoy it. We are proud to present, in living color (black and white also), "A Year to Remember," your script to the year 1980-81. ★

To all the producers and editors who were going when the going got tough! Many thanks for your hard work and good luck in the future. Your Ed. Peter

To these interesting people watch out! We made it through those hard times but we did it. Keep on "yearbooking!" Love Lorrie

Working on "People" section was really the experience. I would like to thank Michael and Theresa Tutlobene and Lisa and Theresa Parrott my co-editor. Lisa

I feel this will be the best. It took a lot of time and true dedication but in the long run it was worth it! This year's yearbook will always hold the many memories of times shared with friends. Love always. Theresa

Being "Sports Editor" this year has been very hectic at times with trying to meet deadlines, study for tests and write reports during the same time. But it's been worth it. I've met new people and discovered new things about myself and my friends. And I say good luck to all the future sports editors and thank you to all the athletes and coaches for putting up with us. Best wishes. Monica

All the agony of cement-like white-out, late pictures, rickety typewriters and impossible deadlines could not overshadow the great times I've had in yearbook. They say crises pull people closer together. They do. I will love and remember you all forever. James

Of all the problems of being on CROWN staff, the worst was having to leave all the beautiful people on it at the end of each day. I feel that everyone on the staff is a trusted friend and through all the arguments and disagreements we have had, the love we had for each other "calmed the seas." I will miss you all. John

As a photographer for the Crown staff, I have had the privilege of seeing many aspects of the activities at Mater Dei. Even though the yearbook deadlines were tense, it was worth it and no sleep was had. We will all remember it all when the book arrived in May. The memories and pride I have for this school will never fade away. Love Kelley

Reaching Out To The Students

Mr. Burson, our student council moderator, has been very helpful in many ways. He has helped us in many ways, and we are very grateful to him. He has helped us in many ways, and we are very grateful to him. He has helped us in many ways, and we are very grateful to him.

The unity and strength that is the prime factor of Mater Dei life is the force which makes our school different than any other. It is this strength and unity which keeps the Mater Dei body some thing beautiful and unique, and something which is bound together through encourage involvement for that the fulfillment of the Mater Dei experience comes.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to my fellow officers this year who have worked hard to make this year's student council the best ever, especially Mark Brown and Brian Matthews and the rest of the senior class and ASB officers. And a final prayer and thanks to Mr. Burson, our student council moderator. The man who helped form the student council.

you J.B. I love Mater Dei for what it is and for the part it has played in shaping the person that I am today. I hope that when the rest of you graduate, some part of you, too, has learned to love.

Good luck friends
Thank you for the precious memories

Kathie Moore

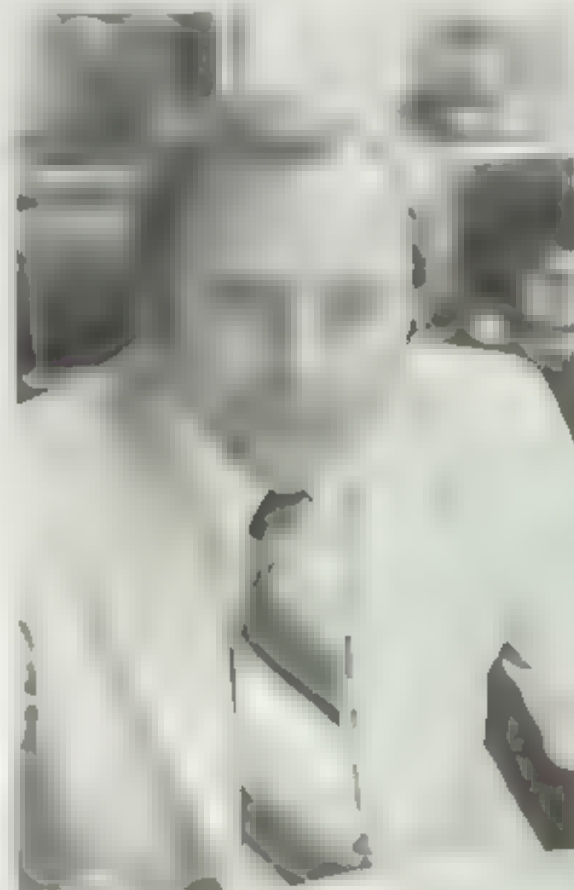

Their goal: To make student government noticable on campus. Who are they? The ASB officers.

During the summer, the ASB officers attended many workshops to prepare them for the coming year, went to a dinner meeting at the house of Mr. Burson (the ASB moderator and Assistant Principal here at Mater Dei), and went on a retreat in the Angeles National Forest. Mr. Burson commented that this was the "best retreat in the five years that I have been the student council moderator."

Since school has started, the ASB officers have been busy getting our school in order. They conducted the section representative elections and have had many new ideas for this year. They have been concerned with reaching out to the students and making them feel more involved with the ASB.

The ASB officers have planned at least four entertainment assemblies this year: intramural volleyball and basketball contests, food and clothing drives and candycane and carnation sales.

Feeling very excited about this year, Mr. Burson said that "the warmth, sense of humor, and willingness to give love are the most outstanding characteristics of the ASB officers this year."

Democracy In Action

It was not an easy job being an officer. Lots of time, work and dedication went into making this an excellent year. Each individual class had its officers, which represented them. They set up all kinds of activities such as dances, dress-up days, spirit rallies, fund raisers and masses. Long hours after school, on weekends and meetings tired the officers out. They did an excellent job and enjoyed every minute of it. They left with wonderful memories, an exciting experience and a special message to us all.

"This year at Mater Dei has indeed been a success. Because of the participation of the student body, in attendance at athletic events, Homecoming floats, dress-up days, dances, Christmas spirit week and many other Homecoming floats, dress-up days, dances, Christmas spirit week and many other school activities, it has been a truly unique experience serving the students. As your class officers, we feel our classes are "special". The spirit, warmth, love and friendship expressed is incredible. We only hope we may carry this feeling for others next year and many years in the future."*

God Bless,
The officers

P.S. Special thanks to Mr. Burson, without you, nothing could be possible? We love you

Tools Of Production

ASB commissioners and their committees are a vital part of Mater Dei life.

Each member is chosen because of his or her talents and enthusiasm for the school. During the summer the committees attended a retreat that gave them a chance to organize for the following year.

Health and Safety

Health and Safety is very important to the well being of each and every student. Headed by Cathy Thomassen and Robert Williams, they make sure people don't jaywalk by taking pictures of the offenders in action.

Elections

Elections is a very hard working committee. Headed by Bill McMahon and Debbie Villa they organize, execute, and tally the returns of the elections. Various elections held through the year are class officers, student body officers, and section representatives.

Publicity

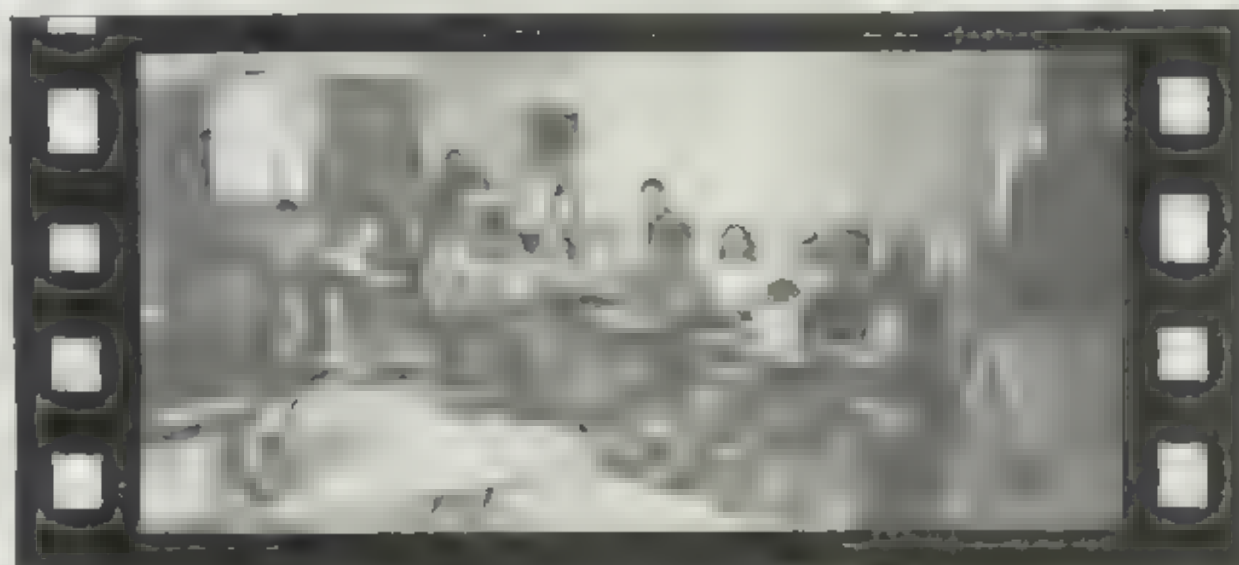

Being informed is very necessary in high school life. Publicity headed by Christine Hoenig and Valerie Lozano, keeps every student aware of many activities coming up. They are busy all year round making large posters and classroom bulletins to keep everyone up to date *

Our House Of Representatives

An important part of our student government here on campus is our House of Representatives, better known as "section reps." At the beginning of each school year, every section elects two people to represent them at all meetings of the House. Freshmen sections are appointed senior representatives for the first semester. During the year, they keep their section posted on upcoming spirit rallies, food and clothing drives, candy sales, sports events, and every other aspect that is a part of Mater Dei life. With the help of these dedicated young people, Mater Dei students never miss out!

Building A Community

In an effort to "get away from it all" A S B officers, commissioners, class officers, and Senior-Freshman section representatives retreated to the Angelus National Forest during this past summer for a time of reflection and fellowship. Volleyball, singing, swimming, hiking, ping pong, skits, and Kris-kin projects filled the days, while night gave way to "The Legend of Hell House" ghost stories, and reconciliation. Through these retreat activities the Student Council evolved into a cooperative, friendly community and prepared all for the responsibilities they were to undertake in the school year to come.

Yearbook Follies

Eat, sleep, and think yearbook. That was the basic routine when nine members of the CROWN staff attended the Scholastic Publications Workshop along with students from schools in the Western United States. The workshop was held on the University of California San Diego campus during the week of August 17-24.

The day began at six in the morning with breakfast at seven and classes at eight. After classes, which ended at three, recreational time began which was spent on a trip to the beach, visiting newfound friends, or, yes, even homework. In the evening, the entire workshop of 300 students attended a Shakespearean Play, went on a harbor cruise, or had a barbeque on La Jolla Beach.

All in all, the workshop was fun, interesting and informative and the CROWN staff would like to share a few of their special moments with you through these pictures.

The Love Of Discipleship

Now in its fourth year at Mater Dei CYM has grown to encompass 700 students. Not all who affiliate themselves with CYM are actively involved, but all are open to the spiritual life which is increasing in the student body. The purpose of CYM is to provide students with the opportunity to experience and share the gospel story with each other. Discipleship is at the core of the program. Campus Youth Ministry adult staff works in discipling a core team of students who, in turn, through their growth, disciple their peers. As students identify specific needs, they form groups of committee to give service, which in turn strengthens the Christian Community. CYM adult staff and advisors make themselves available for counseling and consulting to CYM members.

Guest Speaker Committee

The goal of this committee is to provide Christian witness to students at Mater Dei. We hope that the selected speakers are able to relate to our students and help them develop personal relationships with Jesus. Actually hearing people who have a true relationship with Jesus makes us realize that it is possible and there is something more in our lives. The committee gets stronger everyday and hopes to hear from all areas of our community in the near future so that speakers can be contacted for any group on campus.

Miracles Committee

Christian Service is both the corporal and spiritual works of mercy is essential in any real Christian community. Social consciousness indicates a clear awakening of the Christian conscience. This committee has grown significantly this year. Under the leadership of Mr. Tammaro and Mr. Muth it has begun to encompass a large segment of the CYM effort. Collection of food and clothing and service to the local community are focal points of the Miracles effort. This year's activities have included: working with Corazon, collecting food and clothing for St. Mary Drew, teaching needy children CCD classes, beginning works with the Brothers of Charity and assisting at the CCD Congress at Anaheim Convention Center.

Miracles Committee Members: (Seniors) Maria Angeles, Paula Baquerizo, Mary Colliard, Rhonda Crofford, Julie Cyprien, Don Frater, Sherry Gentile, Kathy Genzel, Rhonda Gonzales, Tracy Grams, Ten Griffin, Barbara Healy, Felicia Hernandez, Rene Hernandez, Laura Hrovat, Joe LaRosa, Mary Leung, Debbie Leisge, Lucy LiCavoli, Yvonne Loebig, Valorie Lozano, Lisa Lyons, Jeanette McHorney, Lon O'Connor, Pam Rensing, Carla Rivera, Jeff Ristrom, Nanette Rumps, Carol Schukst, Janel Short, Angie Wergechik, Mary Wilson; (Juniors) Maritza Alvarez, JoAnn Arellano, Margaret Chavez, Karen Daleiden, Marla Davidson, Mary Dominguez, Pater Engle, Kerry Ferguson, Linda Garner, Mike Healy, Leslie Hoffbauer, Kelly Langston, Paul Macek, Raquel Mora, Edmund Ortega, Tina Salgado, Linda Treal, Therese Uttobone, Ceila Williams, Rita Zanca; (Sophomores) Lawrence Arriaga, Jacki Baldridge, Lisa Broussard, Lisa Daleiden, Kelly Finnegan, Deanna Fisher, Kathy Gilderman, Grace Rychlisk, Sara Steckbauer, Steve Vandewalle, Vickie Wooden; (Freshmen) Maria Aragon, Susan Barry, Miriam Brown, Dawn Cheri, Carolyn Crowley, Rosanna Davidson, Monica Fraga, Chris Frenal, Michelle Gonzales, Lynn James, Julie Khamrongsas, Jessica Mills, Tom Moller, Ginny Moss, Kelly Mulcrone, Mai Nguyen, Melissa Parico, Marla Plantia, Lisa Revere, Kevin Reynolds, Maureen Sullivan, Kathleen Vandemore, Sharon Younk, Senior Rep. Non-Committee

A symbol of the recent growth of Campus Youth Ministry is the large number of members in Non-Committee. While waiting to discover how they wish to serve the Mater Dei community, these students are members of CYM unattached to any particular function. In this manner they are able to experience the fellowship of CYM during their time of discovery.

Scholarship For Service

The monthly meetings of the California Scholarship Federation (CSF) were enhanced with the help of the University of California Irvine (UCI). Sister Mary Raphael, the CSF moderator, began a new program this year for the CSF by having UCI program all of the meetings with many different speakers and activities. Each month brought something new. Some of the activities from this year included: Dr. Helen Wild, a professor of Russian studies who spoke on the Soviet Union and told a few Russian jokes; a musical concert from UCI with a flute ensemble and a violin and piano duo; and also a speaker from UCI on the fun of learning new languages.

Besides the students who were involved in CSF, there were nine mothers who volunteered their time to help with filing, making programs, and general secretarial work in the scholarship office. Their help was "greatly appreciated" by Sister Mary Raphael.

Some other things which CSF was involved in that students might not be aware of were: College Day, which Sister Mary Raphael felt was very successful, Parent Information Night, the annual Fiesta in the spring, the Marion Mass, and a special field trip for CSF members.

In January, the CSF held the Honors day assembly to honor all the students who have achieved a 3.0 grade point average or better. They also honored the seniors who have been in CSF for four semesters and were awarded the title of seal-bearer. Said Sister Mary Raphael of the CSF, "It was an excellent program with UCI arranging it."

Students are encouraged to join CSF if they are able to meet the requirements: No D or F at a semester and a total of 10 points are needed (A=3, B=1). The subjects that are counted are math, history, science, English, foreign language, and advanced courses. Three points are included in electives where homework is given, not including P.E., R.O.T.C., Typing, Drill Team, Chorus, and Band.

Vocal Variety

The Madrigals are made up of seven boys and seven girls chosen at the end of each year. They sing songs of many different languages and many different styles such as folk songs and classical music. This was the first year that the Madrigals had a separate class period instead of practicing after school. They performed in many activities at school such as Class Masses and the annual Christmas Program in which they sang a rousing song accompanied by kazoos. The Madrigals also performed, along with the Concert Choir and Freshmen Choir, "A Lesson in Carol" at St. Bonaventure Church. This program presented the story of Christmas. The Madrigals performed many times at Ambrosia, a nearby restaurant which is famous for its superb food and entertainment. They also sponsored the Madrigal Dinner, where they were waited on by the Concert Choir who cooked and served the meal. They were honored by performing at a Republican campaign party.★

The Barbershop and Beautyshop Quartet members were chosen for their ability to perform various forms of song and dance. They performed in the First Annual CYM Talent Show together. They also perform separately. They hope to continue their performances at Disneyland. Barbershop and Beautyshop Quartets were unique because they mixed comedy with their talent while performing.

Concert Choir consisted of approximately 52 sophmores, juniors, and seniors. They mostly sang classical music. They found it more difficult this year than past years because this was the first year that the Madrigals were a seperate class, so they lost the Madrigals' leadership and experience. The Freshmen Choir also practiced seperately for the first time in the history of Mater Dei Chorus. But considering their losses, the Concert Choir still performed excellently. They sang at the annual Christmas Program, the Spring Musical, and the "Lesson in Carol." They made a tour of San Francisco, accompanied by some of the Madrigals. The Concert Choir, dressed as peasants, served and cooked the meal as the Madrigals sang at the Madrigal Dinner. They also sponsered a Jog-a-thon and a hayride exclusively for the Concert Choir. This year was the first in which the Freshmen Choir members had a seperate class. The reason for this was to teach the students music before they got into Concert Choir because it requires experience.*

Jazz Ensemble members were chosen for their vocal and dance ability. They perform many popular tunes, including music from "Grease" and "A Chorus line"*

The Enforcers

Under the direction of Mr. Gonzales, the Student Relations Committee helped to enforce the school policy. Student Relations is a very important link between the faculty and the students because it increases the communication on campus. The members are also given the opportunity to make suggestions regarding rules and school activities. Some of their responsibilities are keeping the halls running smoothly and enforcing the dress code.

On The Road To Success

This year as in the last, a new, two-wheeled team was organized, but this time in the shape of a 10 speed bicycle team. The team jumped off to a quick success under Fr. Alejandro's guidance a veteran of a 120 mile upstate New York tour and a 78 mile Tecate-Ensanado race

The team was lead by Robert Elmer, who took three 1st places and one 2nd place. He won his class championship. Also leading the team was Bill Bees, who took 1st place in a 100 miler — by over 28 minutes — a third place and a fourth place

The team shows a bright prospect in the future *

Think Snow

This year the Ski Club, headed by Coach Ball and Coach Cou, was one of the bigger clubs of the school with about 200 members. It's not always easy to find transportation and places to stay for everyone that wants to go on trips, but they always manage.

They took more trips than any other club. Members of the ski club participated in many exciting activities such as a one day trip to Big Bear and a four day trip to the mountains.

Over Christmas vacation they went to Utah for a week. Everyone that went said they had a good time even though there wasn't very much snow. The Ski Club has two more big outings planned over Easter vacation. By then, they will hopefully have more snow to ski on, so Think snow!*

Leading The 1980 Monarchs

To describe the 1980 Monarchs, one might use the word "courageous". The season started out very promising, but from the beginning all seemed plotted against us. We went into league games without our first or second backfield. By the end of the season we had lost 17 players. But we didn't give up. To me, Mater Dei Football was my way of life. The comradeships that developed in dim and tough situations were alone enough gratification for all of the time and work I put in. I only wish that we could have given our coaches a title to remember us by, but one thing that no one can take away from us is our memories that we all have."*

"I was proud to be a part of the 1980 Mater Dei Football Team! We had the confidence, pride, courage, strength, and determination that a team needed. The one important ingredient missing was LUCK! All great football teams have some sort of luck. I'm not going to elaborate on all the injuries because I feel this is slowly becoming an excuse that will be a part of the 1980 team. I'm not saying that the injuries didn't have any bearing on our outcome, I'm just trying to establish a positive approach in the attitude of future Monarchs. We would rather be tagged as "the courageous" "the fighting" "the hardworking" which we were! Before I close, there are two men I would like to thank very much—they are Coach Cochran and Coach Rollinson. They are two of the few very inspirational men in my life. I would also like to thank the other coaches for their time and effort. Thank You!*

The 1980 Mater Dei Monarchs opened the new year with a very promising and powerful team. Christmas vacation was over and already this group of Monarchs was busy preparing and strengthening themselves for the 1980 campaign. Our main goal was to win CIF but we realized it wouldn't be easy. We knew it was going to take many months of hard work and total dedication. From January to May we stayed in that weight room and sweated together until our bodies would move no more. At that time we became closer and closer like a family making the ultimate dream more vivid through each day. Spring came and we realized our strengths and weaknesses and ironed out the wrinkles. It was then that we knew how powerful a team we were. The long summer months came upon us. While everyone else was at the beach we were busy lifting weights and running. During these months we lost a valuable member of our defense, one of many to come. We ended the summer by going up to King's Canyon near Yosemite. We all had a great time and became like brothers. We were a team.

The season began suddenly with many expectations and promises. We started out great but through every game the mighty Monarchs kept stubbing their toes with losses. Not losing games but key players. It was like a giant fist continually breaking its fingers. The Monarchs kept going and never ended a game with their heads down. The season ended as suddenly as it began, but with a loss—to Servite. The final minutes of that game typified our season: Always scratching back when all seemed lost.

My years at Mater Dei would have meant nothing without being on the football team. In football I've met the greatest friends I'll ever know and learned to love 70 guys, 6 coaches, and the greatest priest and principal ever. I guess that's what I'll miss most—working together to achieve a common goal. After our loss to Servite when I knew Mater Dei football was over for me I felt as though a part of me had died. But I guess a part of me will always live on in every practice, game, pride drill, and grotto that goes on at Mater Dei."*

PRIDE, POISE, COURAGE. These three words are used to describe all our football teams. This year's team truly lived up to those words

The 1980 Monarchs always displayed tremendous PRIDE in working, playing hard, and in being Monarchs! They showed their POISE by always playing hard, aggressive football and showing outstanding sportsmanship in all situations. COURAGE! This one word could be used to describe the '80 Monarchs. It took courage to continue to play hard, aggressive football while seeing 13-18 teammates surcome to serious

This year's seniors will always be remembered for their love for one another, their team, and the love they have for Mater Dei. This class really showed the courage, poise, and pride it takes to be a MONARCH Football Player. They were "special" people, and that's what it takes to play football for Mater Dei!"*

Opening the season with a thorough trouncing of Newport Harbor, 27-0, it once again looked as if the Monarchs would be a powerful force in the Big Five Conference of CIF. The victory over Newport Harbor had its price, however, as defensive back Mike Johsz had his season cut short by a knee injury. This was just the beginning of the deluge of injuries that befuddled the Monarchs throughout the entire season, however, as Mater Dei lost nearly twenty key players due to injuries

Despite the injuries, the Monarchs won their next two games over Dos Pueblos 21-13, and St. John Bosco 10-7, before being tied by Los Alamitos 0-0, in a game characterized by mistakes by both teams

Returning home to Eddie West Field, the Monarchs faced an awesome Edison team, ranked number one in CIF and ranked number two in the entire nation, for the annual Homecoming game. Still smarting from the scoreless tie with Los Alamitos, the Monarchs hoped to get back in the win column with an upset victory over the powerful Chargers

Edison proved to be too much for the Monarchs though, as the Chargers posted a 35-7 victory over a stingy, hard-hitting Monarch team that refused to give up

Looking ahead to the Angelus League season, the Monarchs had to forget the preleague season and concentrate on the task at hand: winning the Angelus League crown ★

MD Finishes Season With Pride

The 1980 Monarch Football team ended their season with an overall 5-4-1 record. They opened their Angelus League play on a sour note, with a dramatic 21-20 loss to Bishop Amat. The score rallied back and forth and became very close in the fourth quarter but the Monarchs were unable to take the lead when they failed to score the two point conversion.

The Monarchs rallied to a much needed victory the following week over Bishop Montgomery, 14-3.

In a non-league game, Mater Dei held off a tricky Santiago team by scoring the winning touchdown with less than three minutes remaining in the game to pull out a 29-22 victory.

The following week the Monarchs challenged an undefeated St. Paul team. Although the Swordsmen left the field victorious, 31-0, Monarch pride was undiminished.

During the ensuing week, the Monarchs prepared for the final league game against arch-rival Servite. The competition was intensified not only because it was Servite's Homecoming, but also because the outcome of the game would decide which team would go onto the CIF playoffs. The Monarchs fought desperately to the bitter end but Servite emerged the victor, 20-14. With dignity and emotion, the Mater Dei Monarchs ended their season with the traditional pride drill back at the Grotto.

A Season Of Monarch Memories

▲ The impressive Monarch March shows a fired-up football squad ready to take on any team.

♦ Catching what appears to be a good completion. Mike Trotter is ruled out of bounds in a controversial decision by the referees.

The Monarch football season was not one of Mater Dei's best, but the players will always be remembered for their pride, poise, and courage.

I thought we got off to a good start, but then the injuries just killed us.

Mike Trotter

I wish we could have enjoyed a CIF championship season, but...

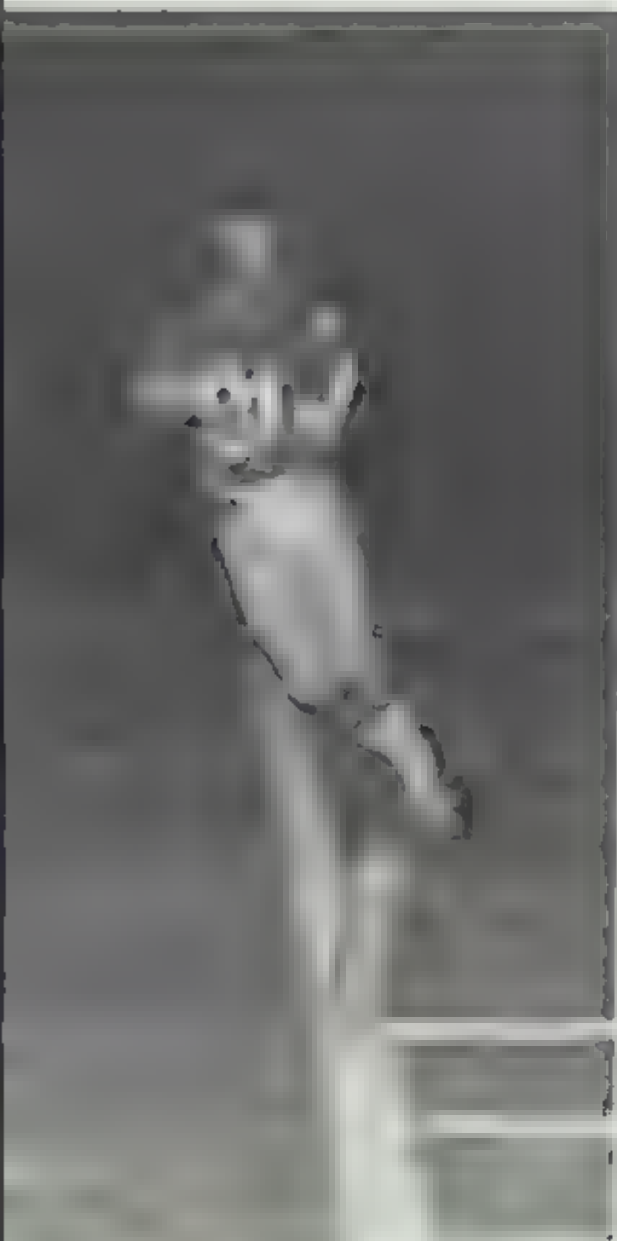

Tim Melvin

Maybe we didn't win it all, but we have something that people can't and won't take away from us. It's Monarch pride.

Frank Vuittonet

This whole season was the greatest experience of my life and I can't wait until next year.

Steve Krucker

Team unity played an important part in the high caliber of football played this year. Players did not play for personal glory but for the benefit of the entire team. The coaches were there at all times to help, to advise and to support the players.

The coaches force you to accept responsibility and dedication in everything you do. They also instill pride in you. Team unity was very important. When you're down, it helps you if twenty other people are helping and rooting for you.

Tim Melvin

I think the most influential coach to me was Coach Tammaro. Whenever I got down on myself and wasn't performing up to my potential, he would pull me aside and help me solve my problem. Thanks Coach!

Brian Lopker

For a Monarch, football starts long before September. They have to spend many months building up their strength and stamina for the upcoming season. Any football player knows however that physical ability is only one aspect of the game. You also must have spirit, pride, and mental toughness.

Mental toughness, which is developed over all the years of hard work in the Mater Dei football program, is the ability to overcome adversity. It was important to the team this year, especially in overcoming injuries as best.

Mark Schaler

"Mental toughness" is when you're giving it more than you've got, when you're behind 31-0 and you almost pass out after every play.

Steve Krucker

The thing that impressed me the most was the pride that we had whether we won a game or we lost one. We never did quit because we have a tradition of pride that will never stop.

Frank Vuittonet

Sophs. Provide Excitement

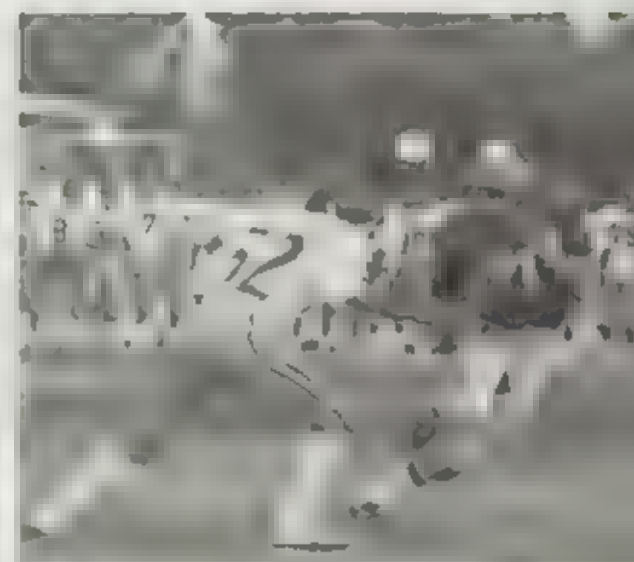

The 1980 Sophomore football team provided many exciting moments this season. After thumping Newport Harbor in a scrimmage, the team opened the season at home with a loss to the Claremont Wolfpack.

The Monarchs rebounded with two convincing victories over St. John Bosco and Los Alamitos as Coach Russel Glass' balanced offensive fireworks produced victory. Mater Dei's biggest challenge during the season was overcoming the tough loss at Edison. Mater Dei met the challenge by winning four straight games during which the aggressive monarch defense completely dominated their opponents. The highlight of the win streak was defeating arch-rival St. Paul, setting up the championship game at Servite. The Championship did not go to the Monarchs though, as Servite won. Mater Dei finished the season in second place in the Angelus League with a season record of 6 victories and 3 defeats.

The challenges that the Sophomores faced this year should go a long way in providing next year's Varsity with the mental toughness needed to help win the Angelus League Championship.

After completing two very successful seasons, the Freshmen "Red" and "Grey" teams provided us with a very encouraging preview of what Angelus League varsity opponents can expect in the not-too-distant future.

Representing Mater Dei in Angelus League competition, the "Red" team, led by coaches Bob Avila, Larry Bryan, Ray Caraveo and Ed DePriest, steam-rolled over all their opponents, going undefeated in nine games (a first for a Freshmen football team) and finished the season in first place in the tough Angelus League.

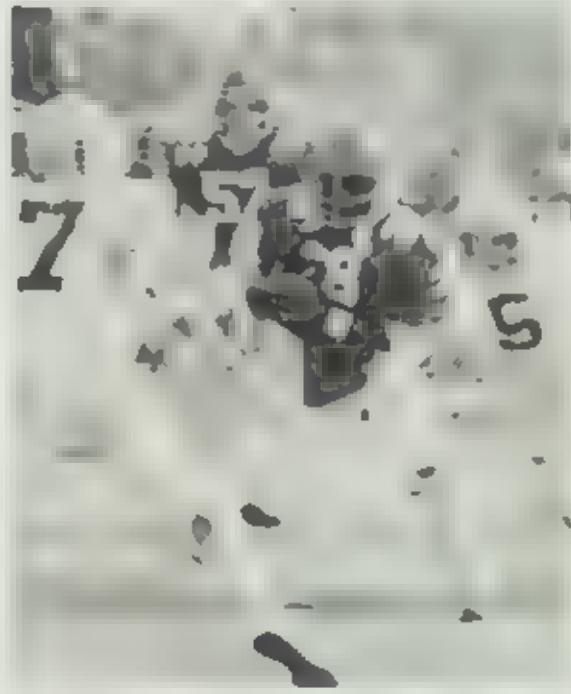

The "Grey" team, coached by Rob Doan and Steve Schaeper, also had an outstanding year, compiling an impressive 6-1 record while recording four shutout along the way.

Going into the season rated as the number one team in CIF, the boys cross-country team looked forward to a successful season. With the team they had, one could see why they expected to do well. Led by juniors Bob Planta, John Nelson, Ernie Estrada, John McShare and Mark McMaster, and sophomores Mitch Eddy and Rob Arsenault, the varsity team went undefeated in league competition for the seventh consecutive year and took first place at the Sonora Invitational, the Orange County Championships and the Las Vegas Invitational where they defeated the Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico state champs. At the Mt SAC Invitational both the varsity and sophomore teams took first place in their division with the sophomores setting a new course record breaking the old one set by last year's Mater Dei sophomores. The junior varsity team also had a successful year taking first place at the Villa Park Invitational and the Orange County Championships as well.

The reason we are so successful is that we have such great depth," Coach Bob Richardson said. "Our sophomores are probably the strongest sophomore team in the state. I've also been very pleased with the outstanding leadership shown by the seniors and the hard work everyone has put in to make this year an outstanding one." *

The 1980-81 Mater Dei basketball team had a tough act to follow considering the outstanding accomplishments of last year's Monarch squad, a team that once again captured the Angelus League crown and advanced all the way to the CIF quarterfinals before bowing to Ocean View. The cast for this year's team featured an almost entirely new repertoire, with only center Larry Williams returning from last year's impressive squad.

Led by first-year Head Coach Bill Alexander, the pre-league starting line-up consisted of three underclassmen, juniors Ron Tarbell and Brett Trickett, and talented freshman Chris Jackson, with seniors Larry Williams and Robert Motis rounding out the starting five.

With high hopes for a successful showing in tournament action, the Monarchs entered the pre-league season optimistically, hoping to prove that despite their youth, they would be a competitive team.

"We hoped to develop some consistency," Coach Alexander explained. "We were looking for a few encouraging bright spots and a positive, winning attitude. I feel that with continued improvement in pre-league, we'll be able to push Servite and Bishop Montgomery for the top spot in the Angelus League." ★

"As a captain, you have to find ways to motivate the team, unite them, and keep them fired up. A victory means even more to you, but when you lose, you're even more disappointed. You feel as if there was something more you, as a captain, could have done."

Larry Williams

"Being a captain gave me more confidence. I felt like I was needed to lead the team. As a captain, team members look up to you, and the coaches depend on you."

Robert Motis

◆ Leaving a Fountain Valley defender standing in his tracks, Ron Tarbell leads the Monarch fast break in the Orange-Optimist Tournament.

Despite their share of promising moments and exciting plays, the Monarchs' pre-league season was characterized by disappointing losses and inconsistent play. Among the highlights was the Monarchs' performance in the Orange Optimist Tournament where Mater Dei captured the consolation championship with a 60-56 victory over Costa Mesa in overtime.

"Basically, it was just a matter of inconsistency," Coach Alexander explained regarding the team's pre-league showing. "That, along with our lack of experience, led to our problems in pre-league. At times we played up to our potential, at other times, we didn't."

When asked what could be expected of the Monarchs in Angelus League play, Coach Alexander replied, "We're just hoping for a play-off berth. Whether we can nose out Servite or Bishop Montgomery, I don't know, because they're both reallyyreally tough teams. Anything can happen in a Mater Dei-Servite game, though." *

Although they were unable to accomplish their unenviable task of upsetting either Servite or Bishop Montgomery, the Monarchs were Fortunate enough to draw a CIF playoff berth for the seventh consecutive year.

With the insertion of senior Steve Sedgwick into the starting line-up at the beginning of the league season, the Monarchs battled to a 4-4 record in Angelus League play, finishing third and clinching the tenth playoff berth for Mater Dei in the past thirteen years.

"In league, our guys played with more confidence, togetherness, aggressiveness, and a good all around attitude," Coach Alexander said. "After any loss you get discouraged, but our guys came back pretty well this year. They didn't pout and mope around, but instead they came out and played the following game hard. They really improved in their aggressiveness and outlook toward the game," Coach Alexander added. "They stuck together through adversity and never gave up." *

JV Monarchs Capture Angelus Title

If the 1980-81 Junior Varsity basketball season is any indication of the future success of the Monarch basketball program, Mater Dei fans should prepare themselves for an exciting and victorious future.

The JV team served notice that they would be a dominant force on the varsity level in years to come by grabbing a share of the Angelus League title, tying arch-rival Servite with an impressive 6-2 league record.

"I've never been associated with a finer group of kids in my life," said Coach Gary Dinneen. "I was really impressed with their enthusiasm. Everybody hustled and gave it their best effort. They should be a fine basis for next year's varsity team and should have a great future at Mater Dei." Coach Dinneen added, "I was very proud to work with them." *

The Season started out on a good note with the team capturing first place in both the San Clemente and Canyon Tournaments. The team led by starters Burnie Joh, Darren Payne, Craig Sutphin, Jeff Langston and Pete Toomey finished the pre-season with a record of 13 wins and 1 loss. Going into League the team played their best game of the year against Servite to open league play, with a victory. The team suffered a letdown against St. Paul for their only league loss, and then finished as league champions with a record of twenty wins and two losses for the year. ★

The Mater Dei Freshmen Basketball season was one of fun and friendship. The Monarchs opened the season with four consecutive victories. They placed third in both the Santa Ana Valley and Verbum Dei tournaments and then placed second in the Canyon Tournament. Following tournament action the hoopsters won three straight to finish the pre-season 12-3.

As Angelus League began, optimism was on a high note. In the season's most important game, the Scarlet and Grey showed intensity and poise in defeating arch rival Servite at home. The Monarchs led by starters Tom Riel, Pat Dubar, Al Pola, Jim Motis, Dan Trickett, and ably assisted by Ron LaBriola, and Geoff Luis off the bench, were headed for a championship.

Despite the bitter loss in the beginning of the second round to Servite, the Monarchs continued to exhibit desire and pride. The Monarchs routed their last three league opponents to win the Angelus League championship and finish the season with a record of 19-4. ★

The 1981 Varsity and J.V. Volleyball teams, headed by coach Maggie Buchan, are composed mostly of returning players, with some new talent. They are a fairly strong team and are expected to do well. Mrs. Buchan says that the junior varsity team, made up of freshmen and sophomores, has the talent to make a strong team. They can jump to make up for their lack of height and they have good speed. The varsity team, composed of juniors and seniors, is also excellent and is better acquainted with the different positions. The team has an amazing willingness to learn and they are always ready to play. Motorcross Bikes Into Action

A new and exciting team has been added to the Mater Dei sports program. 1981 is the second season for this sport-Motocross. The competitors, led by advisors Ed and Marjorie McMahon, is not a CIF team. The riders compete individually for their own trophies.

Motocross competition is probably the most exciting and dangerous sport at Mater Dei. The bikes race around at Corona speedway at about fifty MPH and if you fall at that speed you could be seriously injured as John Curi was in the first race.

Ed and Marjorie McMahon said that they've really enjoyed it and that it's been fun.

The popularity of this sport is growing and will keep on growing in the years to come!*

The 1981 Mater Dei soccer season has been very impressive. The Varsity team has emerged with a 3-1-2 record. Bishop Montgomery was one of the most formidable opponents. Of course the Servite games produced the greatest rivalry. Although the Monarchs were defeated in the first game they came back to Eddie West to defeat the Friars 3-2. The team has confidence that they can defeat any team in the playoffs. Most outstanding players for the year were Tom Baine, James Bramilla, Claudio Cabada, and Collins McCaulay. ★

I think we have had a successful season with the bright spot being Angelus League champs. Beating Servite was the highlight of the season so far since it was the first time we had done so and also it enabled us to come in first place. If we play well we could go far in the CIF playoffs. It has been a lot of fun playing soccer here the past four years and I just hope that we can end it with a smile on our faces and a trophy in our hands.

Soccer Teams Kick Grass!

The Mater Dei Junior Varsity soccer team completed its most successful season in its five years of existence by winning the Angelus League Title with five victories and one loss. The young Monarchs' overall record of fourteen wins, two losses and two ties featured nine shutouts by goalie Bob Ammann and twenty-four goals by striker Doug Stadler. A hustling midfield led by Curt Bauer, Tim Sandel and Rich Montgomery saw the Monarchs dominate league foes, St. Paul and Bishop Montgomery win scores of 9-0, 6-2, 5-1, and 3-1. The most satisfying victory was the 2-0 shutout of Servite, avenging a prior loss. Fullbacks Scott Baldwin, Joe Livernois, Dave Lucerno, and Brian Wilson allowed opponents an average of only one goal per game, while wingers Ron Glenenne and Bob McHarris helped guide a potent offense that saw eleven different players fill the nets with fifty-four goals.

The Frosh/Soph soccer team has played admirable this season. Next year they will be ready to join the J.V. and Varsity Angelus League champion teams. For some of the players this was their first year on the team but they have proved themselves worthy of the experience. Their many hours of practice led to some spectacular victories. Next year we can expect to see these energetic guys excited and ready to win for Mater Dei. Overall standing was 14-4-4. *

MD Shoots For Second CIF Title

How does a team top the season enjoyed by last year's Monarch baseball squad? Granted, they won the first ever CIF baseball title for Mater Dei, but the fashion in which they accomplished that incredible feat is the type of thing that inspires people to write fairy tales. Teams that have a 7-9 midseason record just don't go on to win CIF championships. Obviously, someone forgot to mention that to last year's champion Monarch team.

With six starters returning from last year's CIF championship squad, chances for a second title seemed very possible. "I think they would like to go back," Coach Bob Ickes said referring to the team's desire to win a second CIF title. "They know what it felt like and they want that same feeling again. The attitude this year is much better than it's ever been this early in the season. As we proved last year, anybody can go all the way."

Returning this year was the entire pitching staff, seniors Mark Brown, Steve Mendoza, and Dan Sottosanti. "There's nobody in CIF who has a better three pitchers," Coach Ickes said regarding the strong Monarch pitching staff. "They may have a better one pitcher, but they don't have a better three pitchers than our guys."

Pitching isn't the Monarchs' only strong point, however, with seniors Tom Baine, Amin David, and Mike Johsz also back from last year's starting line-up to provide excellent power in the batting over.

Speaking of the Monarch baseball team's great drive and ambition, Coach Ickes said, "We're never going to be the number one sport on this campus, even if we win ten straight CIF championships, and I realize that. The only thing that we're doing," Coach Ickes added, "is that we're pushing those other teams to make themselves work harder, because they're going to have to, to stay ahead of us!" *

The interest in baseball at Mater Dei has always been high and 1981 was no exception. This year's tryouts saw 125 players trying for 25 positions. The select few who made the team are under the authority of Andy Katnik and former Mater Dei player, Phil Spencer. This year's team had excellent potential and they hoped to place first. Their objective was to give each player an opportunity to play and to work on skills, preparing them to go on to the Junior Varsity and varsity teams of the future. ■

After sitting atop the Angelus League standings for three consecutive years, the Monarch track team's hopes for a fourth straight league championship were sky high. With talent abounding on all levels in literally every event, these hopes were well founded and a strong showing in the pre-league invitationals and the Angelus League season itself were inevitable.

Led by coaches Denny Robinson, Bruce Rollinson and Bob Richardson, the Monarchs had strong performances in nearly every event, especially the sprints, the distances and the field events. In the field events, Mater Dei was led by pole vaulters John Ryan and Mike Knott, shotputter Dave Uranich, long jumpers Paul Williams and Kennedy Pola, and high jumpers Don Ardanez and Jeff Langston. Sprinters were plentiful in the Monarch track program with seniors Kevin Higgins, Al Aguirre and Paul Williams, juniors Mike Lindsten and Kennedy Pola and sophomore Rick Aguirre leading the way for the fast Monarch speedsters. The Monarchs' strongest events proved to be the distance races, the 880, the mile and the two mile, where Mater Dei was led by senior Pat Brown, juniors Aaron Arriaga, Ernie Estrada, Mark McMaster, John Nelson, and Robert Planta, and sophomore Mitch Eddy.

"I expect to win league again on all levels," Coach Robinson said. "I feel we have quality people who will do well and will come through for us in league and in CIF." ★

Frosh-Soph Uphold MD Tradition

Monarch supremacy in Angelus League track was not limited to the varsity team as demonstrated by Mater Dei's consistently strong showing on the sophomore and freshman levels.

Providing a sneak preview of great things to come for future Mater Dei varsity track teams, the outstanding field of young sophomore standouts included Chris Huntington, Frank Rappich and Ken Brown in the sprints, impressive John Purdy, a 10' 6" pole vaulter in his freshman year, powerful shotputter Terry Schafer, and distance runners Eddie Behrens, Jim Gullivan, Rick Martinez, Matt Munoz and Jim Toner providing depth in the 880, the mile, and the two mile.

Showing great promise for the not-too-distant future, the Monarch freshman had their first taste of victory in the successful Mater Dei track program. Sprinters John Gutschmiedl, Jim Ingram, Mike Jones and Richard Quintana led the way for Mater Dei's fast freshman speedsters, while Chris Bugler and Myron Felix performed strongly in the 440. In the 880, Danny Robinson and Jim Larkin consistently outdistanced the pack. Miler Rick Malwanag upheld Mater Dei's tradition of producing outstanding distance runners, while impressive Chris Young excelled in the hurdles.

With outstanding potential on both the sophomore and freshman levels, chances for continued success and additional Angelus League track titles for Mater Dei seem more than likely. It is only a matter of time, however, before these notable young track stars of tomorrow step up to preserve Mater Dei's long standing track dominance over Angelus League rivals. ★

After losing only two players from a team that went to the second round of the CIF playoffs last year, the odds of a repeat appearance again this year for the Mater Dei tennis team seemed very good.

Leading the varsity singles players were seniors John Kline and Bob Williams, junior Chuck Hall, and sophomore Bryan Ruegger, with seniors Rudy Gonzalez and Mike Luevano, and sophomore Mike Olsen teamed with freshman Brett Obuljen handling the doubles duties. Highlighting the excellent crop of up and coming new players were outstanding freshman Tom Kline and Denis Retoske who show promise for a victorious future at Mater Dei.

"The league title should be tight between us and La Quinta," Coach Joe Linden stated. "The team is working really hard after school preparing for the tough Garden Grove League and hopefully, a spot in the CIF playoffs again this year. Since we only lost two players from last year's varsity," Coach Linden added, "the outlook is very good." *

Varsity Makes Top Four In CIF

The CIF games were a big treat for the girls even though they had to practice very hard. The girls were looking forward to all the games especially the one with Laguna High because their team was hard to beat. The girls got themselves fired up for that game because they knew it was tough competition, but it payed off because they won. All the players did very well but the two most inspirational players on the team were Alice Arsenault and Vicki Popp. Mary Stnabra's passes led to many points while Teri Donahue spiked them hard over the net. In the end the team was ranked in the top four in CIF. The team members included: Mary Stanbra, Kim Crawford, Vicki Popp, Laura Niedringhaus, Andrea Fort, Alice Arsenault, Lisa Niedringhaus, Laura Winter, Kathy O'Connor, Chris Donahue, and Teri Donahue. All in all, the girl's CIF Volleyball Team was one that we were proud to say was ours.*

The Jr. Varsity Volleyball team, under coach Billi Wilder, did very well this year with eight league wins and two losses. In non-league they had two wins and one loss. The team, led by Peggy Baker and Nanette Escoto, eluded their opponents with an excellently executed pass, set, spike combination. It was a very successful year for the girls and we should see some of them on the Varsity team next year. CIF Second Place

The 1980 Girl's Tennis Teams had their best season ever this year. The varsity team placed first in the Angelus League while Junior Varsity placed second. An additional honor was given to varsity squad when they all made the CIF team. Members are as follows: Singles-Rina Caniza, Susan Dreyfus, Carrie Miller; Doubles-Carol Dreyfus & Pam Sarmiento, Meg Ball & Theresa Delaney, Laura Wilson & Nadia Cuelar ★

"This year's tennis team had yet another successful year. As the season progressed our team unity grew. With the support of our loyal fans we went undefeated in the Angelus League. We achieved our goal of being the most successful team in the history of Mater Dei. Participating on the tennis team for four years has given me unforgettable memories and friendships that will last forever. LAUGH & WIN!"

Susan Dreyfus

"This is the second year in a row that the girls have won the Angelus League title. Our team has a lot of overall talent while most teams rely on one strong player. With high hopes and great expectations for a successful season, the girls' cross-country team began the year rated as one of the top teams in CIF 3-A. There was good reason for these expectations though, considering the team had four girls returning from last year's standout varsity squad.

Returning were seniors Kathleen and Janine Dube, Elena Prietto, and Carla Rillera who, along with sophomore Carrie Phean and newcomers Clare Felt and Cathy Duarte, led the girls' varsity to an undefeated first place finish in Angelus League competition and a first place victory over rival Bishop Amat at League Finals.

The girls' varsity also did well at the invitational meets, taking second place at Sonora, fifth place at Costa Mesa, third place at the Orange County Championships, and sixth place at the Mt. SAC Invitational. The varsity ended their season on a very positive note, finishing second in their heat at CIF Prelims and eighth place overall at CIF Finals.

The JV team had a good year as well, sweeping through league competition undefeated and finishing a decisive first place at League Finals.

"The hard work that the girls put in really paid off," Coach Mario Bardales commented. "It was their dedication and hard work that resulted in our undefeated dual meet season, our first place Angelus League finish, and our outstanding showing at CIF Finals."*

Determination And A Will To Win

The girls' varsity basketball team completed their season with great improvement and much enthusiasm for the CIF playoffs. The Lady Monarchs placed third in the competitive Angelus League.

The season started with many bumps and bruises that were healed only with hours of determined hard work; countless times of rebounding, shooting, and "Blood and Guts" molded these athletes into the fine team they proved to be at the end of league. ★

Having dedication, strength, and a will to win helped the Varsity team through their tough season. The Lady Monarchs practiced strenuously before the season began, in hopes that they would have a winning team. They kept coming on strong all season long.

All the girls' hard work and endless hours of practicing gained them third place in the Angelus League and a shot at the playoffs.

The Lady Monarchs might not have been a first place team, but they certainly deserved all the praise and congratulations that any other team got on campus. They exhibited a true will to win and a kind of team spirit that is rarely found. *

J.V. Builds Base For Future

Shooting for the top, the girls J.V. basketball team worked their way through this year's season. They went through a lot of serious training before the season started which showed through when the pre-season first began.

The team had a lot of new players that caught on quickly and helped to form the team into what it was: a team with a lot of spirit and a true desire to win.

Coach Carolyn Topf said of the girls, "The J.V. team started the season with a green but talented team. They got off to a slow start with a 3-5 preseason record. After learning the definitions of 'block-out' and 'free throws' (via buckets of sweat), the team went undefeated 10-0 in the league. Led by captains Bev Kansas and Carol Gage, the team sported a league championship and a 13-5 season." ★

MD Girls Run Away With Victory

Mater Dei GAA track and the word "success" are synonymous. After topping off an undefeated season last year with an Angelus League title and a strong showing at CIF finals, the prospects for a similarly successful 1981 season were quite good.

The girls' team, coached by Mario Bardales and Dennis Braga, displayed tremendous depth in many events and victorious performances were routine. In the distance events, seniors Janine and Kathleen Dube, Elena Prietto, Jeanne O'Brien, and freshman Kathy Duarte and Clare Feit led the Monarch girls with consistently strong showings in their respective races. In the field events, senior Jeanette Lujan leaped to new distances in the long jump, while Adrienne Gunkel, a 1980 CIF finalist, excelled in her specialty, the shot put.

If one word could describe the 1981 girls track team, however, that word would be "speed". Top quality sprinters abounded in the 100 and 200 yard dashes and in the 440 yard relay. 1980 CIF finalists Kathy Bancroft, Lisa Niedringhaus, Cindy Petrone and Denise Mihm, and sophomore Robyn Palma surpassed the field in the sprints and chances for a second appearance in the CIF finals for Mater Dei's impressive sprinters seemed more than probable.

With great talent present on all levels, the forecast for a winning future for the girls' track team is bright. As the interest in the track program at Mater Dei grows, so does the degree of the success. It is only a matter of time before Mater Dei becomes the home of the CIF girls' track champions, and that could be much sooner than most people might think . . . ★

GAA Softball Swings Into Action!

The girls softball team this year was coached by Barb Zamora and Carolyn Toip. Many of the girls were returning players, but the new freshman players were just as good. The outstanding pitcher, Mary Stanbra, showed much skill throughout the season. Kathy Sanchez also showed us how well she can slide into home base. The girls have been practicing hard and the results have payed off. Although we will be losing the senior players we have many eager juniors, sophomores, and freshmen players who will fill their places next year. All in all, the girls softball team has had an excellent season. Next year's team has something to look forward to since this year's team proved themselves a very worthy team for CIF playoffs. *

A Change Of Seasons 1980-1981

SEPTEMBER

As the school year begins, we encounter new experiences. We see old faces, meet new ones and have great expectations of the coming year. The freshman initiation was just one of the many events which started the new year.

OCTOBER

One of the most memorable events shared by all was the Homecoming game. Weather we won or lost, the Mater Dei spirit came alive and was at its height.

JANUARY

As the new year began, resolutions were being made. We all had high hopes and worked to make it a better year than the last. Sr. Mary Rose did her part, of course, to hold us to our promises.

FEBRUARY

This was the month for suckers! Yes, the annual Valentine sucker sale. Friends sent these to each other to show their love and care for their friends. These strong friendships are what make up all of the people at Mater Dei.

March brought about some warmer and "greener" days. This month was dedicated to St. Patrick's Day, lepreicans, pots of gold and to the Irish.

NOVEMBER

This was Mater Dei's month for giving. We held several drives in order to give to those less fortunate than us. It was a month that we could be proud of and truly one to give thanks for.

DECEMBER

The month of December brought an all-around warmth to everyone. With the holidays, the true meaning of Christmas was not lost. The spirit and joy of the season showed what Mater Dei is all about.

APRIL

April brought about sweet things. It was a time for new beginnings; it was a time for Easter. It was a time for contemplation and praise for all the beautiful and great things that God has given to us.

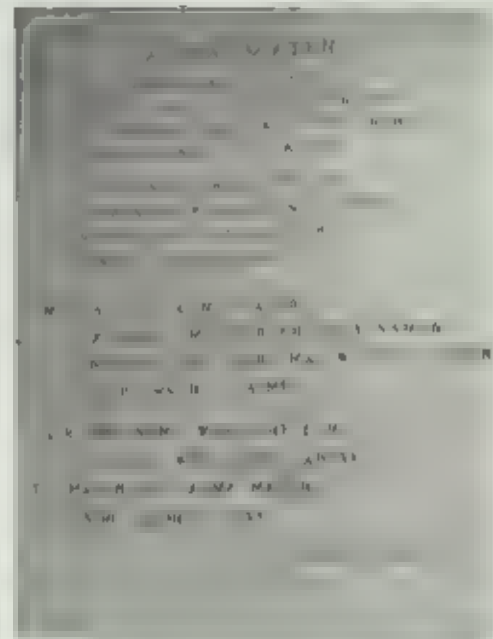

MAY

With the beginning of May, students finally began to hit the books. They wanted to work hard in order to get that good grade in that rough class. They realized that the end was near and summer was on its way.

June was probably the most memorable month of all. We looked back on the past year and all the terrific times we had. It was the time for graduation. It was a time for some to part until the next year began and others to reach unknown places and strive for ambitions unthought of using their HONOR-GLORY-LOVE.

CUT . . . THAT'S A PRINT!

As the year came to an end, we looked back on all the new friends that we made, the interesting teachers that we had and all the memories that we added to our collection. The sky was open to new limits, new jobs and new places to go. All that was left was thoughts of what was and what might be on its way. Waiting until the next year when it would seem like a new beginning, a new experience, a new world would still be a summer away. And what did the summer hold in store for us? Could it mean a time of sun and surf, a time of hard labor to buy that car of your dreams or a time to catch up on all that sleep you missed out on because you had to study for all of those difficult tests and type those long term papers until all hours in the morning? But we made it, and we're off to find new talents and goals *

We look to M.D.
Reflections in surroundings
Start our memories
Some happy, some sad
We think of High School friends
And the dreams we had

The feeling of time
rushing past Bringing closer thoughts of our future
Senior year rushed to meet us.
College just around the corner

We wish for everyone
To remain the same.
Thinking of the past
And affections of our

Friend I will remember you, think of you, pray for you; and when another day is through, I'll still be friends with you!!

friends
We've been here forever (or so it seems)
Now we must go to live out our dreams
It's time for us to move on We're gone

We'll always have our memories
Forever keep them
Time was so distant
But now it's here

So to you our friends
Of past, present and future
We leave you with,
All of our love

SPECIAL THANKS TO

- The 1980-81 Crown Staff, for their dedication to the book year round.
- Ray Moreno, for the many hours spent on drawing divisionals and end sheets. We really appreciate it, Ray!
Mr. Buzz Ponce of Josten's Yearbook Company for his help and guidance throughout the year to the staff, and especially to us, the editors.
- Jeni Bottoms, our "link" to the plant.
- Albert and James Studios, for rushing to meet our deadlines and a special thanks to Dirk and Larry!
- The Hollywood Palladium, for graciously allowing us to use their marquis
- Fr. Harris, Mr. Burson, and Mr. Merino, for being there when we needed you and believing that our "radical" ideas would work
- John Kline, for the many mail deliveries to the front office
- MGM Studios in Culver City, for their cooperation in letting us use the MGM logo in our book.
- The Faculty of Mater Dei, for letting us out of classes when the deadlines approached.
- Movieland Wax Museum in Buena Park, for allowing us to use their grounds for our group picture.
- Tim Potvin—honorary photographer—for all of your help in taking pictures.
- The Tru-Dimension Company of Hollywood for taking the cover picture of this year's book.
- Main Photo for rushing our photos and doing a great job in developing them.
- Mr. Michael Seil, for contributing time, effort and many photos to our yearbook
- and a special, heartfelt thanks to our new advisor this year, Miss Tanya Reminiskey, who stuck with us in the good times and the bad, who shared her love with the whole staff. We'll REMEMBER you always!!

The Editors

Pete & Lorrie

we met with a fragile hesitancy not knowing where the path between september and june would lead us for it was a new beginning for all—brand new hopes and bright expectations
but we smiled and started on our journey.
we found that the path held many good things for us friendships formed and laughter lit our way
yet that path was often laden with tears and tense moments but we smiled and continued on our journey, and now we have reached our goal
together as family we rejoice yet the hesitance returns once more for we met we became one and now we must part.
but we'll smile in our memories knowing that we leave with a part of each other in our hearts.

It's a rare opportunity that some one has a whole page in the year book to use as they wish

I'd like to take advantage to dedicate this page to the class of 1983 that we may be very successful here at Mater Dei and whatever we may do in the future

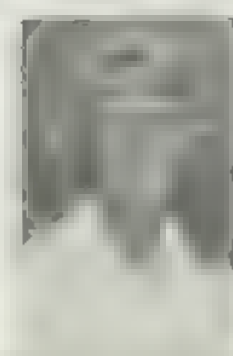

I have enjoyed everyone's friendship in the pass 2 years and hope to encounter more in the upcoming years

Lord, thank you for this opportunity and bless Father Harris, the student body and faculty of Mater Dei High School and a extra special thanks to my parent for their love and care for me

Michelle Silvas

Special thanks to the 1980 CAYUSE Staff of Walnut High School, Walnut, Ca. for their technical inspiration.

Ed,
I'm glad were friends even though we hardly ever talked much. I hope you enjoyed the people here at M.I.P. because I did. Have a great future and college career and hope to see you around here. Stay sweet and take care.
Friends
Johnnie Gallyon

Ed,
It really has been great to know you. You can really put up with a lot. I hope you have a great summer and great years to come. Take it easy and good luck in all you do.
